Ton of pot lands two in tank

A Leander man and his companion were charged Friday with possession and delivery of about a ton of marijuana after they were arrested in Austin early that morning by narcotics agents from that city's police department and federal and state agencies.

Thomas Lee Bowen, 28, of Rt. 2, Leander, and John Dennis Dawson, 27, of 4418 Barrow in Austin, were in the Austin City Jail Friday afternoon awaiting transfer to Travis County Jail. Each man was charged with one count of possession of marijuana and one count of delivery of the drug. Bond for each was set at a total of $45,000.

LT. BOBBY SIMPSON of the Austin Police Department's Organized Crime Division told The SUN that Bowen and Dawson were arrested about 12:30 a. m. Friday in the 4200 block of Airport Blvd.

Police reports said the two were taken into custody after they attempted to sell 1,400 pounds of marijuana to undercover narcotics agents.

Police said they later found another 600 pounds of the substance when they executed a search warrant in the Manor area.

Simpson quoted reports as saying the two men offered no resistance when they were arrested. He said the investigation and completion of the case were a joint effort between the Organized Crime division of the APD, the Narcotics Division of the State Department of Public Safety, and the federal Drug Enforcement Administration.

ACCORDING TO the reports, said Simpson, the two men attempted to sell the 1,400 pounds of marijuana for $110 per pound, or $154,000. At that price an entire ton would bring $220,000.

"I would think it probably came from somewhere in Mexico," he said, when asked the origin of the substance. "It looks like a good grade of marijuana." He said that police could not be sure of the drug's origin until tests on it are completed.

The retail or "street" value of the drug would depend on where it was sold, Simpson added. "When you get down to the individual cigarette level," he said, "down south it would cost more, up north less. Once you get up near the Canadian border it could cost quite a bit."

SIMPSON said the haul from the bust probably is not any sort of record for Austin.

Simpson said "quite a few officers" from the three law enforcement agencies had been investigating the case for several weeks before the Friday morning arrests were made.

Concerning further investigation, he said, "We know there have to be other people involved, and of course we'll see what we can find to try to determine who else might be involved."

From Sheriff's Department

Walker takes a walk

D. J. Walker, the ten-year veteran of the Sheriff's Department of Williamson County, walked into the Courthouse at noon Wednesday and turned in his badge.

The unexpected resignation of Walker left Sheriff August Bosshard without a Chief Deputy Sheriff. Walker had filled the position since the death of Sheriff Henry Matysek in June, 1974.

According to the Taylor Daily Press, Walker said Thursday morning that he has not made plans for the immediate future. "But I think I will be back in law enforcement, if not now, at least about four years from now," the ex-Deputy Sheriff commented.

Asked his reasons for quitting his job, Walker was quoted as saying he had three reasons: Sheriff August Bosshard, Deputies Jim Boutwell and Leon Kelly, with a lack of cooperation from the three. Lack of discipline in the department was said to be his chief complaint.

When the SUN attempted to contact Sheriff Bosshard he was not available for comment.

The Taylor Daily Press reported that he had not fired Walker, and that the decision to quit was Walker's. "There has been a little friction among the members of the department, but that is to be expected with eight or nine employees. I hate to lose a senior officer," Bosshard said.

Fried chicken power gives church new life

by Linda Scarbrough

Fried chicken can be a powerful thing.

Over the last eight years, a small band of dedicated Georgetown women has sold over 40,000 pieces of some of the world's best fried chicken to hungry Central Texans — and have raised almost $25,000, enough money to build an annex (complete with kitchen) for their church, a new parsonage, and to buy a parcel of land and lay an asphalt parking lot on it.

But now, the ladies of The Dining Hall Committee of Wesley Chapel A.M.E. Church on 508½ West 4th Street are embarking on their most formidable project: the complete renovation and restoration of their beloved, but crumbling, 75-year-old church.

Last Sunday marked the first day of their new drive, and the AME ladies served over 100 "Sunday dinners" and took in $137.50 — remarkable for an operation which sells delicious meals (fried chicken, roast turkey and trimmings or roast beef with salad, fresh rolls, two vegetables, dessert and tea) for $1.75 and $2 a plate. Still, it will take a lot more poultry to renovate and upgrade the graceful old church — an estimated $35,000 worth.

"We have people who eat here from every church in Georgetown," says Martha Tanksley, a professional caterer and chairwoman of the committee and originator of the weekly Sunday dinner idea. "We have members of the Swedish Methodist Church, the First Methodist Church, some from Crestview Baptist and the Roman Catholic churches. I guess we have them from everywhere: even some who don't go to church!

"Lots of our customers are students from Southwestern, but we have three people who come from Austin almost every week, and a good number who come from Leander, Jarrell, Liberty Hill and Round Rock."

Dinners are served only once a week, after Sunday morning's church services. The dining hall, in the church annex, opens at about 11:30 a.m. and closes at 2 p.m. Takeout orders are accepted.

It all started in 1968 when the AME Church needed some new lavatory facilities. "We thought we might earn enough money selling food to pay for that, so we sold fried chicken out of one little window on the side of the church," says Ms. Tanksley. "People would wait outside for their food. They'd sit and eat the passing glance

By Don Scarbrough

My thoughts turned back about a decade this week when I read about an Idaho Baptist minister who suggested guidelines for Sunday morning sermons.

HERE'S HOW he would rate them:

G: Generally acceptable to everyone. Full of inoffensive, puerile platitudes such as "What the world needs is peace and brotherhood." Old timers walk out saying, "Wonderful! Marvelous!"

M: For the mature congregation, making the Bible relevant for today's issues — in subtle ways, of course. Contains mild suggestions for change, provoking comments such as "challenging, thought provoking."

R: Definitely restricted to those who are not upset by the truth. Tells it like it is — very threatening to some. Described as "disturbing" or "controversial," and usually indicates that the pastor has an outside source of income.

X: Positively limited to those who can handle explosive ideas. This sermon really "socks it to 'em!" The kind of message that landed Jeremiah in jail and got Amos run out of town. Those leaving before the benediction murmur, "Shocking" or "What poor taste!" Indicates that the minister has his suitcase handy.

THIS VETERAN'S advice to young preachers is never try for the "R," much less the "X," until you have earned the love of your flock by being their pastor in comforting them in their affliction. Then you have the right — yes, even God's mandate — to afflict the comfortable.

TEN OR SO YEARS AGO, when the Rev. Carroll Thompson was thumping the Bible and trying to beat a bit of religion in some of us fellows, he came up with the idea of a genuine old-fashioned revival and presented it to his Administrative Board, seeking the Board's approval and guidance.

Well, everyone just sat there for a few seconds and finally one of the distinguished deans of Southwestern University, a long-time member of the Board, spoke up. "Frankly," he said, "it doesn't appeal to me. I have worked things out, I am at peace with my Maker and I don't want a revival preacher getting me mixed up and agitated."

ANOTHER LONG SILENCE. Then J. H. "Buster" Compton had his say. "I'm for it," he asserted strongly. "I think it does me good to have the hell scared out of me every once in a while!"

There was a soft but fervent "amen" from the rear of the room and a quick vote won approval for the revival, which, I believe, was the last one held by the First United Church here. And, just frankly, old Buster hasn't had any hell left in him since that very date!

County swine flu shots stopped

The Williamson County arm of the federal swine flu program got jabbed again last Thursday, as federal health officials once again temporarily halted the program to investigate possible dangerous effects of the vaccine.

Swine flu inoculations have been stopped for two weeks while a possible connection between the vaccine and a generally nonfatal but sometimes paralytic disease called Guillain-Barre syndrome is investigated.

THIS LATEST SETBACK to the federal program is only a precautionary measure because no link between the flu shots and the disease has been found.

After giving nearly 10,000 flu shots in Williamson County, the health department here has had no reports of any unexpected adverse reactions, said health department official Diane Sansom. "We have had a few reports of chills, fever or sore arms, but these were expected reactions that everyone given a flu shot was warned about."

"These are not considered unusual reactions," said Sansom.

Speaking about the county program, Sansom said, "We have stopped giving the shots for two weeks. I don't know what will happen after that."

A TOTAL OF 9,392 shots have been given in the county so far. The Health department planned to give more. "That's less than 10,000 in a county of around 50,000 people," said Sansom.

Saying that the program was not as successful as they had hoped, Sansom added, "I think all the publicity, first about the vaccine manufacturers wanting liability insurance and then about people dying or being paralyzed, has scared people off."

Asked about her personal opinion of the program's future, Sansom said "I'd just as soon get rid of the stuff."

GHS musicians try for All-State

Five Georgetown High School Band members have made the Area Band and are on their way to All-State Band tryouts, February 10.

THESE FIVE YOUNG PEOPLE have competed in District, Regional and finally Area band competitions to attain the honor of participating in All-State tryouts.

According to band director, Rodney Klett there are 19 regions in the state of Texas, which make up five areas. In the region which includes Georgetown, 1,700 students participated in the tryouts. "The average school will only have one, two or at most three students make the Area band. It is unusual to have five."

In Regional, Area and State competition, musicians from all school classifications including "AAAA" are pitted against one another. They try out in a large auditorium with all the student musicians and band directors present. Three judges sit with their backs to the person trying out and mark their ballots on a scale of 1-20, rating such factors as tone quality and musicianship.

THE ALL-STATE BAND competition is part of the Texas Music Educators' Association Annual Convention, being held February 8-11 in San Antonio. Participants arrive the night of February 8. Tryouts for the All-State band will begin the morning of February 9. By that afternoon, the two bands will have been selected and rehearsals will begin for the All-State concert which will be on Saturday, February 11.

In the past 11 years, since Klett has been band director at Georgetown High School, the town has produced four All-State Band members.

Week's news in a nutshell

President-elect Carter is struggling to name as many of his key people as possible before Christmas. Generally speaking, his appointments thus far have been fairly conservative, surprising both friends and foes.

GASOLINE PRICES will be up a couple of cents per gallon soon. The price of oil bought from OPEC nations will be going up about 10 percent, which, when translated into domestic gasoline production, means a corresponding boost there. Saudi Arabia, the biggest producer, was against any price increase and has said it will not cooperate.

Round Rock will be having its Home Rule vote on April 2, with an affirmative ballot easily predictable.

A hazardous highway situation in Cedar Park will get remedial treatment early next year when the Highway Department constructs a continuous left hand turn lane, 1.7 miles long, running the length of that city on U.S. 183.

ROUND ROCK (and probably Cedar Park) city folks are trying to reserve a place on the Dec. 27 Williamson County Commissioner meeting agenda for the purpose of "discussing thoroughly" the ambulance contract that would put an extra expense on those two cities.

Taylor led other Williamson County towns in sales tax rebates during the calendar year of 1976, with $40,117.53. Georgetown came in second with $27,953.96 and Round Rock banked $13,313.13. These rebates are from the 1 cent portion of the 5 cent sales tax imposed by the state. Total rebates to county towns for the year amounted to $95,829.

CONVICTED KILLER Gilmore is back in the hospital after another overdose of drugs. He is sentenced to die by firing squad January 17, but apparently wants to get it over before that time.

There will be no more swine flu shots until the latest scare — that the vaccine may be linked to a generally nonfatal, but sometimes paralytic disease — has been cleared up or lies down. About 100 persons have been struck by the disease, half of them several days after taking the flu shot. Only two Texans were listed as victims and both are recovering.

PRESIDENT FORD, TALL IN DEFEAT

The transition that is taking place in Washington — one President taking over from another — has not always been orderly, has rarely been comfortable and has never been this genuinely cordial.

PRESIDENT FORD stands tall in defeat. President-elect Carter has repeatedly acknowledged Mr. Ford's uncommonly courteous and helpful manner and reportedly has said that he would be honored to have Mr. Ford serve in some appropriate capacity in the Carter Administration.

Never in the history of our nation has there been this degree of transitional co-operation.

Vermont Royster has watched inaugurations since F.D.R.'s first and has researched those previous. He agrees that the civility of this Ford-Carter turnover is unprecedented.

Neither of the two Adamses would even attend the inaugurations of their successors, Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson.

PRESIDENT-ELECT LINCOLN had to take over from President Buchanan without one word of communication, without the least gesture of co-operation.

When Franklin Roosevelt was elected he rejected any liaison with incumbent President Herbert Hoover. On Inauguration Day, Mr. Hoover was left to depart without ceremony — to make his own way to Union Station — without even Secret Service protection. And from there he departed by train for New York.

More recently, though Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower had worked closely for years — after the election there was no personal cordiality between the two men.

When it was Gen. Eisenhower's turn to move out his public attitude toward John Kennedy was politely proper but privately he kept referring to his successor as "that boy."

SO THE SHIFT IN POWER — Gerald Ford to Jimmy Carter — is being accomplished with a mutuality unique in our history.

President Ford has left nothing undone to facilitate a comfortable and orderly transfer of authority. His Cabinet was immediately made available for briefings. The presidential plane was placed at President-eiect Carter's disposal as was Blair House.

Considering the campaigning which goes before, these two months of transition have to be most difficult; both men by now are — or are becoming — accustomed to subservience.

ROYSTER SUGGESTS that someday we might want to give consideration to adopting the British system where the turnover is accomplished without this November-January gap — which does tend to leave our nation vulnerable for two months.

But until the big switch can be accomplished more efficiently — these two men — this year — are managing the transition with dignity which is a credit to both of them and a worthy example for the future.

Football scoring big in Japan

By Ross Atkin

Grambling University's football games normally fall into two categories: "home" and "away." But neither designation told the story of the Tigers' 1976 opener, which was truly a "far, far away" contest — some 6,000 miles from Louisiana home turf as the jumbo jet flies.

Landing in Tokyo after a 13-hour flight, Grambling met Morgan State (of Maryland) in the first regular-season American college football game ever played outside the Western Hemisphere.

The football rivalry between the predominantly black schools attracted a capacity crowd to Korakuen Stadium, the 50,000-seat home of the popular Yomiuri Giants baseball team.

And this was not an isolated instance of U.S. football in Japan.

Last January two American college all-star squads drew more than 60,000 spectators in the first annual Japan Bowl. And last summer the National Football League's St. Louis Cardinals and San Diego Chargers met in the league's first exhibition game ever played in Japan. A crowd of 38,000 paid up to $26.50 to watch the NFL game in misty rain — too few spectators, however, to prevent promoter Frank Takahashi of Los Angeles from losing nearly half a million dollars in the deal.

Yet, despite that setback, football, definitely a seedling in Japan's cultural soil, seems to be taking root.

More American teams are being invited to play in Japan; department stores are doing a big business in NFL merchandise; highlight films of American college and pro games appear on Japanese television several times a week; two magazines, Touchdown and American Football, devoted exclusively to the game are on sale; and the number of football teams at Japanese colleges continues to increase.

"In 10 to 20 years we expect Japanese football to be as popular and as good as Japanese baseball," says George Tottori, a director of the American Football Association of Japan.

So far Japan has few knowledgeable followers of the game. One person who rates as an expert is Tatsuhiko Mori, perhaps the country's most avid football fan. Mori, a journalist and promoter, named one of his sons "Unitas" after the famous American quarterback, Johnny Unitas. For the past few years he has made frequent visits to the United States to study college football, primarily at the Universities of Oklahoma, Alabama, and Texas.

Mori has been such an avid student of the Oklahoma football program that one local magazine rated him among the Sooners' top 10 fans. He has religiously attended practices, film sessions, coaches' meetings, and "chalk talks."

At present the playing opportunities in Japan are limited, with most careers held to four years of club-style football in college. More than 70 colleges have teams, but fields are generally poor, skill levels much below those in the U.S., and attendance poor. The better collegians may go on to semi-pro leagues, where squads nicknamed Sharks, Silver Stars, and Buffaloes represent such firms as Toyota Motors and Wrangler jeans. The riot squad of the Tokyo police even fields a team.

The size and skill gaps between Japanese and American players have been considerable, based on recent results. In 1971, Utah State beat the Kanto All-Stars 50-6 and the Kansai All-Stars 46-6.

Mori would someday like to see a Japanese college team play the Division III U. S. champions, potentially the most equitable size and skill match-up.

Football was introduced in Japan by a missionary teaching at a Christian university in 1934. The sport was banned during World War II, but eventually reintroduced by American occupation forces.

The public's fascination for football has been heightened by seeing mammoth U.S. players in person and witnessing the accompanying pageantry — marching bands, cheerleaders, etc.

Young people have taken to buying colorful NFL merchandise with faddish zeal. But clothing sales are only part of a multimillion-dollar football trade, which also includes everything from pencil sharpeners to handkerchiefs and alarm clocks — all stamped with team emblems.

'Now remember, this administration will try to create jobs, but at the same time practice economy'

AUSTIN NOTEBOOK

By Bill Kidd

AUSTIN — Christmas is indeed a-coming, and both the goose and party-goers alike are getting fat.

So, in more or less the spirit of the season, here's a Christmas list of presents which the Jolly Old Elf might distribute for various politicos et al.:

For Secretary of State Mark White: First, ask John Hill if he doesn't want it any more.

For Comptroller Bob Bullock: a new copying machine and a big John Connally picture to inspire him.

FOR JOHN CONNALLY: laryngitis, to be delivered to Bob Bullock (isn't there anything else you want, John?)

For Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington: a whooping crane in a pear tree (one that won't fly into TV antennas and upset the New York Times).

For the State Supreme Court: you know what they want (most of them, anyway).

For U.S. Rep. Ron Paul of Houston: a couple of hundred votes (Rep.-elect Bob Gammage wants the same thing).

For Southwestern Bell Telephone: a brand-new Public Utilities Commission.

For Texas' railroads: a big lump of coal (but not in slurry form).

For the Texas Democratic Party: lots of peanut butter, peanut brittle, salted peanuts, etc.

For the Texas Republic Party: one big transfusion.

FOR THE TRIAL LAWYERS, doctors and insurance companies: a medical malpractice insurance bill (wait — better make that three bills).

For Sen. Lloyd Doggett and Rep. John Wilson of Austin and LaGrange, respectively: a nice sunset for various state agencies to ride off into (as per their sunset bills).

For the Department of Highways & Public Transportation: some concrete action by the Legislature.

For Banking Commissioner Robert E. Stewart: no more calls about South Texas banks.

For the Railroad Commission: a one-per-cent oil allowable to really shock the Federal Government.

For the Board of Barber Examiners and Cosmetology Commission: an end to the hair-splitting arguments among their members.

For the Department of Public Welfare: a stamp collecting kit ($1,200,000 size).

For Board of Insurance Chairman Joe Christie: Sen. John Tower.

For Speaker Bill Clayton: some foam-rubber gavels (or helmets for the House staff).

FOR THE STATE AS A WHOLE: moderation by the Legislature (please, Santa) on that surplus. (Which is not to be considered a gift to the Legislature.)

For everybody: a Merry Christmas and Happy (despite the coming session) New Year.

Wesleyan breaks new ground

It's full steam ahead for the new Wesleyan nursing home, now under construction near the intersection of Leander road and IS-35, at the south edge of town.

Interestingly, the nursing home is full, or nearly so, of patients even as the ground is broken. Transfers from the Wesleyan, on University Avenue, will occupy it in the initial days of its completion. Operating under a contract with the State Department of Public Welfare, success of the new institution is as assured as any new undertaking could reasonably assumed to be.

BUT, WHAT ABOUT the Wesleyan, minus about 90 residents? Does it face a rocky future?

The directors and the administration are confident that it does not. Several hundred applications for admittance are on file and Wesleyan people are confident the beautiful retirement home will be utilized to the limit of its ability to serve, for the first time actually, as a retirement home.

The Wesleyan was conceived, as many will remember, as a retirement institution, a place for people who were still active and in good health, to enjoy life without many of the burdensome duties associated with living in a house or even in an apartment. However, the Wesleyan concept was years ahead of its time and had to be abandoned. Nursing-type patients were admitted and the Wesleyan served, majestically, but not exactly as it had planned.

Now it will try again. It will offer itself and its services to people who want to shed duties around home, who want to escape the loneliness of living alone, who need companionship and planned activities, all of which the Wesleyan offers.

GEORGETOWN IS FORTUNATE indeed that the Wesleyan directors decided to build here. When the nursing home goes into service the annual operating budget will exceed $1,500,000, no small item in our economy. But even better, we have the satisfaction of knowing that the Wesleyan is bringing comfort, health and contentment to many, many people who need those things and might otherwise not be finding them.

A good man quits

We don't know why D. J. Walker quit his job in the sheriff's department, but we'll say one thing loud and clear — he was a doggone good man and the county is poorer for not having him on its law enforcement payroll.

WE'VE WATCHED D.J. since his high school days when he was an outstanding athlete and we know him to be richly endowed in the qualities that a police officer should possess. Any resume of Walker should contain such phrases of "A family man. . .faithful to his trust. . .totally honest and honorable. . .deeply concerned with his job and personal performance." Wherever he goes, we wish him well.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON -- The former chairman of the Consumer Product Safety Commission has been caught in Washington's "revolving door" system.

There has always been a revolving door between government and industry. Top executives rotate from industry to government to industry until it's hard to tell the corporate executives from the government officials. Many businessmen wind up in Washington regulating the industries they just left. And many federal officials go to work for companies that benefited from their government decisions.

The revolving door needs to be watched all the more closely during a political changeover. With the Democrats coming into government and the Repubicans going out, the door is really beginning to spin. For example, Richard Simpson, former chairman of the Consumer Product Safety Commission, got out of government before the post-election rush. His duties in that job put him in charge of setting safety standards for consumer products.

But Simpson exited government via the revolving door. He has now turned up as a paid consultant for two groups that set industrial standards, the American National Standards Institute and the American Society for Testing Materials. They serve many businesses that are regulated by the commission that Simpson used to head.

Simpson told us that he doesn't see anything wrong with his new affiliations. He pointed out that the two groups aren't manufacturers, although many of their members are regulated by his former commission.

It is illegal for a government regulator to take a job in the industry he was regulating for at least a year after leaving government. The case of Richard Simpson's passage through Washington's revolving door, therefore, has been quietly submitted to the Justice Department for investigation.

Nevertheless, the revolving door is still spinning, and all too often, the public interest gets lost in the shuffle.

FBI Cleanup: There is a need for the press to occupy an adversary role in Washington. But we also like to report some pleasant news. Lately, the press has been knocking FBI Chief Clarence Kelley and we've done our share. We reported, for example, that Kelley had accepted a luxury weekend in New York City as the guest of an insurance company doing business with the FBI.

But Kelley also deserves some praise. He has brought an openness to the FBI that has been missing in the past. He has refused to cover FBI mistakes and has ordered his press office to acknowledge FBI errors, past and present.

Kelley has also ended the statistics games that the FBI used to play. The FBI made itself look good by concentrating on easy-to-solve cases. Kelley no longer permits this. The number of investigative cases has dropped, therefore, from 700,000 to 550,000 a year. But they are all legitimate cases.

Safety Hazard: The ordinary street light may be a health hazard. Investigators have discovered that the lamps emit ultraviolet radiation when their outer glass casing is broken. Overexposure may cause severe burns and skin tumors.

More than 100 street-lamp burns have been reported in recent months. But experts believe many people have been overexposed to broken street lights without realizing it.

The Food and Drug Administration has proposed new safeguards. But enforcement is voluntary. Reps. John Moss (D.-Calif.) and Toby Moffit (D.-Conn.) have complained to the Food and Drug Administration. They want mandatory standards.

New Brooms: The House Democrats surprised just about everyone last week by choosing Texas Rep. Jim Wright as their new leader.

Most observers had expected either California's Philip Burton or Missouri's Richard Bolling to be the new majority leader.

But, in an agonizingly close election, the moderate Wright won out. His victory will help place the new speaker of the house, Massachusetts' "Tip" O'Neill, in firm control of the House Democratic majority. Burton and Bolling are both reformers who might have given O'Neill stiff competition.

But Wright is a mild-mannered legislator who will probably go along with the wishes of the political establishment. However, his election could be bad news for Carter's transition team. The reform-minded Burton would have gone along with Carter's ideas on bureaucratic reorganization. But Wright is more likely to fight any serious attempt at shaking up the status quo.

Intelligence Squabble: Last year, many of the secret activities of the CIA and other intelligence agencies were exposed to the glaring publicity of a congressional investigation. The CIA got off with an official slap on the wrist. In recent months, the scandal has faded from the headlines.

But we've discovered that a serious split has developed within the super-secret intelligence agencies. The fight is over foreign policy.

On one side of the rift is a new breed of cold warriors. The intelligence hard-liners see the Soviet Union as increasingly more hostile. The Soviets, according to these worried intelligence analysts, are interested only in confronting the United States at every opportunity.

But not all intelligence experts agree with this dire assessment. In fact, behind-the-scenes, many intelligence observers are taking a more moderate view of the Soviet position. According to the moderate camp, the Soviets are cautious and suspicious, but not overtly hostile.

Both groups are pushing their views hard. The moderates in the intelligence community are working overtime to catch President-elect Jimmy Carter's attention.

As one high-level intelligence source told us: "Jimmy Carter's job will be to walk that thin line ... and to find the truth."

GHS boys lose in CenTex tourneys

Georgetown High School's boys' varsity and junior varsity basketball teams lost in the first rounds of a couple of Central Texas tournaments Thursday, while the GHS girls' team was slated to go against Llano in Leander Friday morning.

The boys' JV lost to Rogers 60-49 Thursday in the first round of the Salado tournament and was scheduled to play Lorena late Friday afternoon in the consolation round.

Meanwhile the varsity boys lost to New Braunfels Canyon 67-49 in the Lockhart tournament. They were to play San Antonio Randolph in the losers' bracket, also late Friday.

The Georgetown girls went against Llano at 10:30 a.m. Friday in the Leander tournament and were scheduled to play San Saba, Leander, or Lampasas, depending on the outcome of their own game and that of the Lampasas-Leander contest.

Time for planting trees, shrubs

Although most people shun the outdoors when cold weather arrives, that's the best time to add winter hardy trees and shrubs to the home landscape, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service landscape horticulturist.

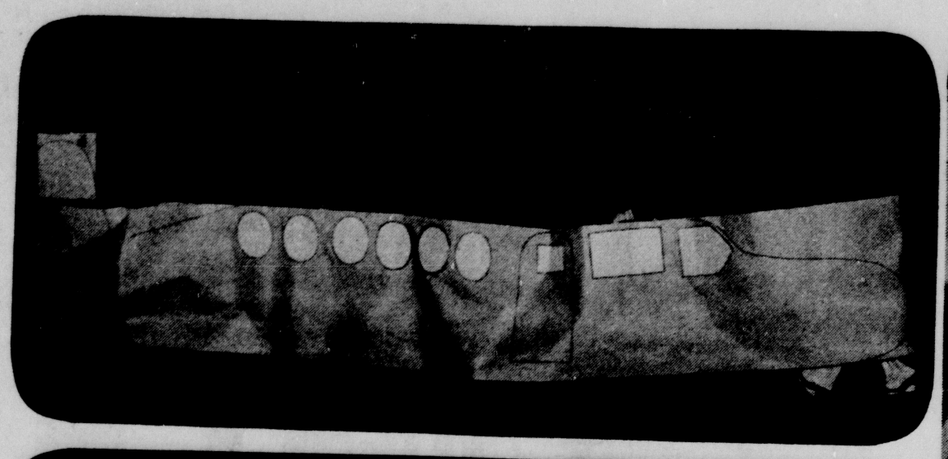

"Texas weather allows trees and shrubs to set out good root systems in the colder months," points out Dr. William Welch. "This allows the plants set out in the fall and winter to better withstand summer drought than those set out in the spring."

The main concern when setting out trees and shrubs in the winter is to keep them watered to avoid damage during freezing weather. This is especially true for evergreens which have a tendency to dry out or contract leaf burn, warns Welch.

The horticulturist also suggests that newly planted trees and shrubs be staked firmly to prevent damage from high winds.

"New plants should not be fertilized until after the first growing season. A good mulch of hay, dried grass clippings or leaves will help protect the root system from extreme temperature changes and will help retain moisture," explains the horticulturist.

Nurseries are beginning to get in good supplies of trees and shrubs, so Welch advises homeowners to start considering additions to the landscape in the weeks ahead.

West-side show

SANTA CLAUS IS ON THEIR MINDS — The third and fourth graders at Westside School gave their Christmas programs on Thursday and Friday afternoons to a standing-room-only crowd of parents, brothers, sisters and friends. Third graders had a sing-song including familiar Christmas songs and some rather unique new numbers. Costumes for the performers ranged from Christmas trees to candy canes and each portion of the program brought cheers of delight from the audience. The fourth graders' floor show was called "Santa Rides a Jumbo Jet". This imaginative skit was as colorfully costumed as that produced by the younger children. The performers danced and sang and the audience was again beside themselves with enthusiasm.

The Santa Claus of today is a composite character

by Peggy Swift

Your scowl you'd best hide
and your temper don't show,
Santa likes Georgetown and
I'll tell you how I know,
Santa Claus is coming back to town.

Georgetown is one of Santa's favorite places. The red-suited gift-giver is returning to the city on December 18 and he will be here holding forth in the house on the courthouse square for four days, December 20 to 24.

DO YOU BELIEVE in Santa Claus? That is a question asked by generations of children and adults alike and usually answered by a faraway look and a smile that recalls the magic of Christmas.

Santa Claus is certainly one of the most colorful and kaleidoscopic creations of the Christmas season.

The original St. Nicholas was probably a Bishop in Asia Minor in what is now the southern part of Turkey during the first half of the fourth century. He became the patron saint of many countries where the Eastern Orthodox Church was the primary religious institution. He was also claimed as patron saint by mechants, bakers, mariners and children.

THE MOST FAMOUS legend of St. Nicholas' generosity is the tale of his throwing three bags of gold on three consecutive nights into the house of a noble family whose fortune had been lost, changing their poverty into wealth. The tale has further grown that he threw the gold from the street into the chimney where it landed in stockings which the three daughters of the family had hung by the fire to dry.

Dutch children would put their wooden shoes by the fireplace before going to bed. They lined the shoes with straw and placed an apple on the straw. The straw was for Sin Nikolaas' donkey and "swarte Piet", his servant, got the apple, according to Tristram P. Coffin's The Book of Christmas Folklore."

The Reformation changed St. Nicholas as it did many other aspects of December celebrations. Just as the Roman Catholics did not want to credit any Saturnalian spirit with the mid-winter dispensation of gifts, the Protestants did not want to credit any Roman Catholic saint with gift giving. Thus, a more secular figure came on the scene known as Father Christmas or Papa Noel.

IN THE NEW WORLD, the Dutch Sinterklass gradually became anglicized into Santa Claus. He lost the title and robes of a bishop in the church and his visit on December 5 was changed to Christmas Eve. The red and white color of his bishop's vestiments were retained, however, and incorporated into the costume of Father Christmas.

The final stroke in transforming a lean, tall, straight Bishop of Myra into the rolly-polly elf who today goes sliding down chimneys all over the country was probably the poem, "An Account of a Visit from St. Nicholas," popularly called "The Night Before Christmas," believed to be written by Dr. Clement Clarke Moore.

Through all the changes from lean to round, bishop to elf, St. Nicholas has remained one of the chief figures of the Christmas celebration. Possibly the editorial by Francis P. Church, published in The New York Sun (September 21, 1897) in response to a letter from eight-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon can best explain the reasons.

"YES, VIRGINIA, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished. . .

"No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

The price of electricity must continue to go up.
Texas Power & Light wants its customers to know why.
Since TP&L began operation almost 65 years ago, providing dependable electric service at a fair price has been a constant aim.
One measure of accomplishment of this aim is the fact that today, the average price of each kilowatt-hour of electricity supplied to residential customers is about the same as it was in 1951.
In 1963 and 1965, TP&L made the eleventh and twelfth general reductions in the price since it began operation. The average price of residential electricity dropped from about 4 cents per kilowatt-hour in 1951 to about 2 cents per kilowatt-hour in 1971.
Costs of producing and supplying electric power began to go up at an unprecedented rate in the early 1970's. In 1972, 1974 and again in 1975, it was necessary for TP&L to ask its customers to pay more for their electricity. The average per kilowatt-hour price rose from about 2 cents in 1971 to about 4 cents in 1976.
In the 1970-1975 period, TP&L's annual expenditures for constructing generating plants, transmission lines and other facilities increased from $98 million in 1970 to $268 million in 1975. These expenditures are expected to be several billion dollars in the next 10 years.
Fuels used to produce electricity cost $26 million in 1970 and $147 million in 1975. The cost of fuels will be almost $200 million in 1976.
Texas Power & Light will continue its efforts to provide you and all of its customers with dependable electric service at the lowest possible price. But, as our costs go up, so must the price of electricity.

There is a reward at the top of . . .

THE CLIMB

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Even when you know the proper way to climb with skis and the way up becomes easier, it still exerts you. However, the way is made even less of an effort when you think of the rewarding ride down.

The reward of an eternal life with God is easier still because it is a gift.

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Attend church . . . learn more of this wonderful gift.

Discover 4-H

By CAROLYN BONNER & EDWARD WILKIE

THERE WILL BE a new grain sorghum production project in effect for the 1976-77 4-H year. This project will be open to any 4-H member having reached 16 years of age during 1976 and capable of farming a sorghum crop. The objectives of this project are: (1) to encourage young people to enter agriculture as a profession, (2) to involve family members in a demonstration-type project, (3) to teach, demonstrate and apply sound agricultural practices, and (4) to recognize 4-H members for achievement in field crop projects. The entry deadline for participation in this project has been moved to January 15, 1977. Any interested 4-H members should contact the County Extension Office for a registration form and copy of the production rules.

MRS. LESTER C. JOHNSON, President of the Central Texas Rabbit Association (CTRA) has informed us of a meeting for anyone interested in rabbits on January 13 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Old Quarry Branch of the Austin Public Library in northwest Austin. Mr. Gus Person, Guadalupe County Extension Agent, will speak to the group on 4-H Rabbit Projects and organizing a Rabbit Show.

Mrs. Johnson hopes this meeting will be a kind of workshop for all 4-H leaders unfamiliar with rabbit programs and rabbit shows. This would be an excellent opportunity for interested 4-H leaders and members in Williamson County to pick up lots of useful information and ideas. Rabbit projects are a definite area we can use to involve more youngsters in our 4-H program.

ENTRIES for the Taylor Livestock and Poultry Show close at 5 p.m. Monday, Dec. 20, 1976. All entries must be in the Taylor Chamber of Commerce Office by this date. Late entries will not be accepted.

WE WOULD LIKE TO WISH EVERYONE A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR!

He has given recitals in Vermont, Louisiana, New York, Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas.

Prior to joining the Southwestern University faculty in 1957, Penick taught at Louisiana State University, Centenary College of Louisiana, Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Mary Hardin-Baylor College and Mississippi State College for Women.

A frequent lecturer, Penick has been guest speaker for numerous conferences and organizations. He and his wife, the former Doris Sease, are frequent performers for various institutions and organizations.

Doris Penick, a talented violinist, has appeared in recital in numerous states and has taught violin at Texas School of Fine Arts in Austin, the Fort Worth Conservatory of Music and Southwestern University School of Fine Arts.

Prior to coming to Texas, she taught violin and piano in Columbus, Mississippi, and has also taught piano at Southwestern University. She is an alumna of Louisiana State University, Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, University of Texas at Austin, Centenary College of Louisiana, Fort Worth Conservatory of Music and Mary Hardin-Baylor College.

Before moving to Georgetown, Mrs. Penick was concertmaster with the Austin Symphony Orchestra. In addition to her performing and teaching, Mrs. Penick is currently serving as laboratory co-ordinator in the department of biology at Southwestern University.

Saturday

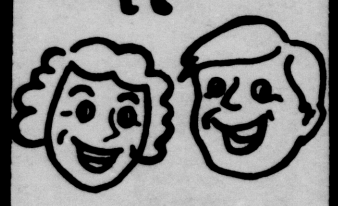

RICHARD HARRIS, as King Arthur, is happily married to the lovely Guenevere, VANESSA REDGRAVE, but he is disturbed by constant war in "Camelot," the lavish musical. Part One airs on NBC Saturday Night at the Movies, Dec. 25 (9-11 p.m., EST).

Now is the time to think about having something new for Christmas. Why not try some gingerbread men cookies — ones that can not only delight your taste buds, but brighten up your Christmas tree, too. Your children will love the cookies and the fact that their Christmas tree is the most unique one on the block.

REEL TO REAL LIFE -- I should like to know something of the real life of Melissa Sue Anderson who plays Mary in Little House on the Prairie. Is she older than the character she plays? Agnes Marie Summers, Tampa, Fla.

Melissa is very much like the character she plays, a somewhat shy, straight-A student. She was born Sept. 26, 1962, making her 14. I'm not sure how old her character is supposed to be, though. Melissa first got into acting at the recommendation of her dancing teacher. She got an agent and went right to work doing TV commercials. Melissa's first acting job was in an episode of Shaft, which won her the part of Mary on Little House. Right now, besides reading, she'd like to learn to fly.

RATINGS WINNER -- Recently I saw the movie "Gone With the Wind." I would like to know what the ratings of the movie were and I would like to know where I could write to the film producers of the movie. Louise Wirts, Franklin Lakes, N.J.

NBC's ratings soared like an eagle for its two-day showing of "Gone With the Wind." About 90,000,000 watched the first half and 110,000,000 the second night, giving them a 66 per cent share of the audience. The film was produced in 1939 by David O. Selznick, who passed away in 1965. It was released through MGM, though, so you might want to write there for some information. It's Metro Goldwyn Mayer, 10202 Washington Bl., Culver City, Los Angeles, Calif.

GODFATHERS -- Both Al Pacino and Robert de Niro played in "Godfather II" made to look older than I would think they are. How old are they in real life and where were both born? Tina DeWitt, Bantam, Conn.

Both actors were born in New York City. De Niro is 31 years old and Pacino is 36.

PATRICIA NEAL and RICHARD THOMAS star as the mother and eldest son of the now-famous Walton family of Virginia's Blue Ridge Mountains in "The Homecoming: A Christmas Story." Dec. 24 (8-10 p.m., EST) on CBS. (REPEAT)

TV Star Scene

Henry Winkler, who was recently named National Chairman of the "Toys for Tots" campaign, has also been designated the first National Honorary Youth Chairman of the Epilepsy Foundation of America . . . Stephen Collins, who played Hugh Sloane in the film "All the President's Men," has been signed for the lead in NBC's Best Seller: "The Rhinemann Exchange," which is in production now in Mexico. He plays a U.S. intelligence agent involved in a WW II espionage exchange between a group of Americans and Germans. Also cast have been Roddy McDowall, Rene Auberjonois and Ben Wright.

James Broderick, who stars as the father on Family, is known to have a great rapport with fellow performers Gary Frank, Kristy McNichol and Meredith Baxter Birney. One of the reasons is that Broderick has three children of his own, aged roughly the same as the series stars: Martha, 25; Janice, 20 and Matthew, 13. His one plaintive question in reference to his family problems is, "Where were those 'Family' scriptwriters when I needed them?" . . . Tom Snyder, host of NBC's Tomorrow, will portray himself in an upcoming McCloud drama entitled, "McCloud Meets Dracula." The guest cast includes Diana Muldaur, John Carradine and Michael Sacks. It is not known who plays Old Drac.

The topical and satirical "Doonesbury" -- the first comic strip to win a Pulitzer Prize -- will make its debut as an animated TV special on NBC in the spring. Garry Trudeau, the 28-year-old creator of the strip, has written the script for the show, to be produced by Academy Award-winning animators John and Faith Hubley . . . Michael Moriarty and Kevin Conway will star in "The Deadliest Season," a two-hour film about a professional hockey player's hunger for success at any cost, to air later this season on CBS. Patrick O'Neal and Andrew Duggan will be special guests in the picture.

Oscar-winner Red Buttons and gravel-voiced film veteran Lionel Stander have been signed to star in "The Sunshine Boys," a pilot being made at NBC. Neil Simon has written the hour-long adaptation . . . Michael Landon will host "Doug Henning's World of Magic," the acclaimed magician's second live special, airing Dec. 23 . . . Gladys Knight and the Pips and Doc Severinson will welcome 1977 in a three-hour musical special, "Doc and Gladys Celebrate," following the Dec. 31 Tonight Show on NBC.

In 1969 Allan Sloane won an Emmy for his sensitive drama, "Teacher, Teacher," about a young retarded boy. Now he has made a sequel, in which the young boy Freddie is 19 years old, called "Emily, Emily." The show will be presented as a Hallmark Hall of Fame drama later this year, and stars John Forsythe, Karen Grassle and James Farentino, and introduces Tom Hulce as Freddie . . . Two comedians, Steve Landesberg and Jack Riley, will play con men in an upcoming Rockford Files.

Another captain recently called on The Captain and Tennille for help. He was Captain Jacques-Yves Cousteau, the famed undersea explorer and conservation spokesman. Cousteau was in the United States and wanted to talk about the two stars appearing at several forthcoming conservation events. They were more than willing.

Said Toni, "I think he is one of the most incredible men . . . he's a saint to me."

Toni and Daryl are both deeply into conservation causes, an interest that predates their meeting. Now both are vegetarians, and says Toni, "I won't even wear anything made of fur. If I have to wear fake fur, I'll do that for the television show, but I'm not crazy about the idea. I'm very opposed to taking the life of any living creature . . . I don't know whether our convictions are intellectual, emotional, or a combination of both, but it's the way we've chosen to live and we're never reluctant to encourage others to do likewise."

TOO YOUNG -- Is Freddie Prinze really only 22? He seems older. Also, is he married? G. Leonard, New Iberia, La.

Yes, he really is a baby. He was 22 in June. Not too young for marriage, though. He's married to the former Katherine Cochran and they have a son, Freddie James, who was born this past March.

TOO MANY TONIGHTS -- The "First Fifty Years" on NBC reminded me how great Steve Allen was on the Tonight Show when it started. Why did he leave the show? Albert Barth, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

While Allen was doing the Tonight Show, he also had a network show on NBC in prime time once a week, called The Steve Allen Show. The Tonight Show has never gotten the enormous audience that a prime time show gets, even though it has the biggest audience for its time period. So, Allen decided to concentrate on the weekly show. Plus, he was beginning to get weary of the Tonight Show grind.

Review

Executive Suite
By Joan Martin

Will Stacey get out on bail after bombing her father's factory? Will porno star Yvonne survive her desperate suicide attempt? Did Howell suffer a heart attack, or was it merely acid indigestion that caused him to choke after Don's assualt on him?

Tune in next week to -- Love of Life? Search for Tomorrow? The Secret Storm?

No. It's Executive Suite that forces its audience to linger in suspense from week to week as it exposes the scintillating lives of Cardway Corporation's naughty little devils. Like the traditional soap operas whose format Executive Suite imitates, the series is centered on a not-so-typical American family, the Wallings. There's Don, the workaholic president of Cardway, his beautiful but jittery wife Helen, and their two rebellious and alienated children. Stacey is the Bel Air bomber. Brian is a sensitive wanderer in love with a black schoolteacher who affectionately calls him "Honky."

Other principal characters are Howell Rutledge, the ruthless Vice-President, his scheming wife Astrid, and the amazingly diversified members of the board of directors. There is a token youth, woman, black and alcoholic member of the board. A Chicano should join them soon.

Finally, the cast of all classes is completed by a motorcycle-riding proletarian who demands increased protection for the workers, a chauffeur who works his way up to draftsman, and then becomes an industrial spy, and a nymphet secretary who sends secret messages to her boss/lover.

When it first premiered, Executive Suite promised something different, fresh and relavant. To the television viewers who were overnourished from a steady diet of sit-coms, cop shows, and family fairy tales, the series promised a tantalizing appetizer. What it has delivered amounts to little more than cliche-ridden plots that insult the intelligence of the television-viewing public.

A lolly-pop loving cop we can accept. An egomaniac like Phyllis is believable. But a secretary's affair with her boss, the generation gap, and an executive's son working his way up the hard way are time-worn, sorry and boring themes.

But if the characters are not believable, the actors who portray them are. Stephen Elliot, in his role as Howell, is just about the meanest villain we've seen on television in years. Somehow, Mitchell Ryan as Don, although ambitious and hard, generates sympathy for his character. And although Helen is hopelessly self-righteous, Sharon Acker makes her problems feel like every mother's.

The elaborate settings, in which even a hospital appears to be a country club, no doubt add to the attractiveness of the show. Even its theme music is inspiring. My main quarrel, however, lies with the characterization and story line. They are simply too much to swallow in prime time.

So, if Executive Suite continues in the best traditions of the soap opera, expect to see a murder or two, a couple of pregnancies and abortions, a homosexual relationship revealed, and one very long court trial.

Liberty Hill NEWS

BY HOWARD N. WILSON

Again this year there is going to be a Community League Basketball Program in our community for both boys and girls in grades three through six. The tryouts for the teams will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, January 8, 1977, in the school gym.

Coaches and assistants will be needed to bring about a successful program. Everyone who is willing to help with this program is urged to attend the organizational meeting which will be held in the open area by the high school at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, January 6. It is necessary to have the support and participation of not only parents but also anyone else who is interested in the welfare and happiness of the youth of our community. Please make plans to attend the organizational meeting on January 6, and take an active part in our Community League Basketball Program!

The third grade of The Liberty Hill Elementary School was the big winner in "the attendance contest" for the second six weeks. The attendance record for the remaining grades are as follows: second place-fourth grade, third place-second grade, fourth place-first grade, fifth place-fifth grade, sixth place-sixth grade, seventh place-fourth grade, eighth place-kindergarten.

We want to congratulate the members of the third grade for gaining the distinction of having the best attendance record.

The Liberty Hill High School Girls' Varsity Basketball Team lost their first District 28-A game when they played Bartlett and came away on the short end of a 62 to 25 score. Debbie Bohanan scored 16 points, with Diane Williams and Kelly Weems each scoring 3 points. Shirl Holder got 2 points and Donna Holder accounted for 1 point.

In the Junior Varsity Game, our girls were on the short end of the scoreboard by 36 to 13 against Bartlett. The Liberty Hill Girls were plagued by an inability to reach the basket. The scorers for the Panthers were Pat Sullins with 7 points and Linda Hernandez, Gayle Lenox, and Karla Taylor with 2 points each. A fine defensive effort was displayed by Melody Carlisle, Debbie Sessler, Beth Wear and Sherry Hays.

This weekend The Liberty Hill Varsity Girls are playing in the Evant Tournament; next week the girls will play Johnson City and Thrall in Liberty Hill on Monday and Tuesday, respectively. Coach Kathy Burttschell and her girls will appreciate your support.

In the Junior High Girls game this week the eighth grade team lost to Johnson City by 42 to 10, and the seventh grade managed to catch up late in the third quarter and the fourth quarter was neck and neck all the way. Leading the girls to victory was Sue Cantrell with 26 points, with Lace Knox and Lisa Lovelady each scoring 5 points to round out the score. In the eighth grade game, Denise Stultz and Theresa Cantrell each scored 4 points and Cynthia Loehr accounted for 2 points. The next games for The Junior High will be on January 3, when all four teams will travel to Lometa.

The Liberty Hill Boys' Varsity Basketball Team beat the Johnson City Eagles last Tuesday evening by 59 to 55. In what was clearly a very sloppily played game, the Panthers somehow had enough bright spots at the right time to pull ahead late in the third quarter as the quarter ended with the Panthers on top of 44 to 43. With only three minutes left in the game the Panthers were still leading by only one point when Jimmy Patton came off the bench to hit the basket. He then picked off a loose ball and passed it to Donnie Johnson for another quick two-pointer. The Eagles then fouled Robert Stephens who added two more points from the foul line to put the game out of reach, although The Eagles did narrow the gap.

Robert Stephens led all scorers with his 24 points. Donnie Johnson added 14 points, Roy Montemayor got 11 points, with Mark Walker and Eric Weems each scored 4 points and Jimmy Patton bagged 2 points.

Both boys' and girls' varsity teams will compete in the Evant Tournament, with The Panthers playing Lometa in the first round.

Coach Bill Bowie's Junior Varsity defeated Johnson City counterparts last Tuesday eveing by a very close 32 to 28 score, with Ray Satterwhite and Walter Rutherford leading in the scoring. Ray scored 14 points and pulled down 15 rebounds, while Walter scored 10 points and pulled down 3 rebounds.

Liberty Hill led from the opening tip-off and never relenquished the lead which was as high as 8 points at one time. A full-court man-to-man press by The Eagles narrowed the lead to two points in the last quarter, but good effort by the Panther offense broke the press to end the Johnson City threat.

The Panthers did an excellent job on defense using a full-court man-to-man press with ten players rotating in assignments every few minutes; this rotating press has improved with every game. It puts a lot of pressure on the opposing players.

The outstanding defensive players were Damon Reed, Ray Satterwhite, Tony Stevens, Todd Linebaugh and Rex Burnett.

Monday evening the Junior Varsity boys played Johnson City here at home. The first District 28-A game for the JV will be played on the home hardwood on Tuesday evening, January 4, when the Granger Lions come visiting. Coach Bowie's players, as is the case with all of our athletes, will deeply appreciate your presence and your support!

Coach Joe Gregg and his seventh grade Panthers were still undefeated when they won last Monday evening, December 13. They completely dominated the Johnson City Eagles, winning 22 to 14. Johnson City was unable to score until the fourth quarter. Once again Harvey Holbrook was the high point man with 15 points, while Luke Cullum sacked 3 points. Mitch Walker grabbed 2 points and Doug Lindsey got 2 points. Other stand outs in the game included Mark Sullins, Jerry Floyd, Edward Pina, John Allman, Kelly Burns, Brian Kirk and Marty Hicks.

The eighth grade boys broke from a recent slump when they won a close victory by 36 to 33. There was obvious improvement in outside shooting, rebounding and defensive play. Aurillio Montez was the high point man with 18 points, while Curtis Riley made 8, Maurice Stephens got 6 and Edward Montez got 2. Others who contributed to the victory were George Glass, Mitchell Sullins, Donald Mouser and Gene Holbrook.

The Junior High Teams will resume competition on January 3, when they travel to Lometa. On January 6-8, they will be playing in The Hutto Tournament. Be sure to be on the sidelines whenever possible to cheer our Panthers on to victory.

New school bond proposal coming up for Leander

The Leander School board agreed Monday night on the need for a bond election in January. The election would be to approve money for a new elementary school roof, sewage treatment plant at the Leander campus and several portable buildings to relieve overcrowing in the schools next year.

STARTING action on these needs, the board authorized Superintendent Joe Ward to prepare and present a proposal for the bond issue.

Cost estimates were $55,000 for the Leander Elementary School roof and $150,000 for the Leander campus sewage treatment plant. The number of portable buildings that will be needed is not yet known.

School board member Jim Moore expressed special concern for the potentially dangerous septic situation.

TALKING about expected overcrowding at Faubian elementary school next year, Moore said the situation would be "something terrible." Trustees discussed permanent additions but decided to plan on portable buildings to ease the crowding next year.

Superintendent Ward was also authorized to prepare a long range plan for the school district's future needs.

In other business, the board voted to spend about $2,500 to add a 150x10 foot drain field to the septic tank connected to the field house to alleviate the excessive burden on the showers.

An emergency situation was declared so that repairs could be made faster. In an emergency situation, the school district is not required to accept bids for the work before deciding on who will make the repairs.

Business manager John Thurman said the district already has money for the repairs allocated. The $2,500 will go for materials and the labor will be supplied by the district.

Presently the drain field has to be pumped out every day, which would cost about $8,350 to continue between now and June.

Two new bus routes were approved, at state expense, to alleviate standees in Cedar Park, Leander Heights and on the Georgetown road. A new state law requires everyone in a school bus to be seated.

In action regarding the overcrowding, four new teachers were hired.

THE ANNUAL AUDIT produced good and bad news. While expenses for the school district year closed out extremely close to the budget, trustees learned that as of August 31, only 82.08 percent of 1975 taxes had been collected.

This compares to an average of 93-98 percent in other districts, said school district auditor Marvin Kaufman.

Business manager John Thurman said that the 75-76 budget had been based on a 90 percent collection basis because "the district averaged a 91 percent collection rate for the past five years. A taxpayer's suit and district taxpayer discontent over several issues may be responsible for at least part of the low collection rate, said Thurman.

Grain handlers warned about increasing thefts

GRAIN HANDLERS from farmers to elevator operators are being warned by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White to double precautionary steps to halt the increase in thefts of whole truckloads of sorghum.

"By using various schemes, drivers, often using stolen trucks, are stealing more grain than in the past. We have had more reports on thefts recently because of the great amount of grain stored on the ground. Elevators are full, and farmers are having to wait to send their harvest to storage," White explained. "The drivers are bolder now; they just make off with the entire truckload."

SEVERAL RUSES are successful because of the shortage of transportation. During the height of harvest season, trucks are difficult to contract, and farmers will take almost anyone who is available, just to get his grain out of the weather and into storage, White said.

One driver loaded his truck with 80,400 pounds of milo, consigned for Galveston. The grain was never delivered.

THE FARMER did get the trailer license number, but the records showed that the license was stolen. Since the truck was loaded at night, no description of the tractor could be made.

At one elevator a driver had a sign taped on the side of his truck and got in line with others with similar authorized signs. He got the truck bed filled and pulled out. "Where the grain was sold is anybody's guess," White said.

"WE HAVE SEVERAL SUGGESTIONS for farmers and elevator operators, but the most important is to try to be as wary as the thief. If operators don't know the driver, he should get the diver's license number, the make of the truck and trailer, the license number of the truck and trailer, and some type of description on the vehicle.

"Once the grain has been picked up, don't wait two or three days to call the destination. Allow just sufficient time for him to get there and call to make certain that delivery was made. If the truck hasn't reached the destination, call the nearest law enforcement office," White advised.

Gayle Blake, Charles Bielss united in St. Phillip's vows

MRS. CHARLES GENE BIELSS
(Miss Denise Gayle Blake)

Miss Denise Gayle Blake and Charles Gene Bielss were united in a double ring ceremony at St. Philip's Catholic Church in El Campo on Saturday, December 4, at 3 p.m. with the Rev. Leslie A. Vance officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blake of El Campo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bielss of Holland.

Banking the main altar was greenery of variegated pittisporum and wax-leaf ligustrum. The same greenery decorated the sanctuary windows. Two baskets of bronze mums and candelabra holding lighted votive cups entwined with English ivy flanked the altar.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Jayme Dornak of Dickinson, organist, and Cecil Davis, soloist. Selections included: "True Love Comes From God," "He," "The Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer." Prelude music included "Wedding March" from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn; "Bridal Chorus" from "Logengrin" by Wagner; "Someday, Somewhere," "Sunrise, Sunset," "A Time For Us," love theme from Romeo and Juliet; "Somewhere" from "Westside Story," "More," "How Great Thou Art," and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore an original gown of ivory silk organza and Venice lace. A lace-edged stand up collar accented the fitted bodice, which was designed with a sheer yoke highlighted with scattered lace medallions. The long sheer sleeves were gathered to wide cuffs adorned with lace medallions and wrist-hugging satin-covered buttons. The skirt of the empire gown featured a sweeping, scalloped border of satin and organza edged with Venice lace. Lace medallions accented the points of the scallops. A satin bow, fastened at the waistline, accented the back.

The bride wore an ivory fingertip veil completely edged with scalloped Venice lace and attached to a lace-covered cap. Lace medallions were scattered over the veil of bridal illusion.

She carried a round bouquet of yellow roses, tulips, white poppies, yellow forget-me-nots and flocked babies' breath tied with yellow satin picot ribbon and ivory ribbon.

She also observed the tradition "something old, new, borrowed, blue and a sixpence in her shoe."

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Patricia Blake of El Campo. Matron of honor was Mrs. Chester Rummel of Brownwood.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kay Gaus of Austin; Miss Sheila Bielss of Austin, niece of the bridegroom; Mrs. Ronnie Persky of Bartlett; Mrs. Allen Martinets of Austin; and Mrs. Ray Wilson of Wharton.

Miss Kathy Ellison of Rosenberg, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The bridal attendants wore burnt orange and white polyester formal-length dresses fashioned with scooped necklines, long sleeves gathered to bracelet cuffs, and self-fabric belts tied at the natural waistlines.

They carried cascade bouquets of orange chrysanthemums interspersed with stephanotis, forget-me-nots, lilies-of-the-valley and greenery, and tied with orange and yellow satin ribbons.

The mother of the bride chose a formal gown of apricot imported chiffon over taffeta designed with a V-neckline, cummerbund and fitted bracelet length sleeves. Her accessories were bone, and she wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses accented with babies' breath and yellow satin ribbon.

The bridegroom's mother wore a formal-length apricot polyester knit dress styled with short sleeves, a fitted bodice and a V-neckline with a floral print circular chiffon cape. Her accessories were gold, and she wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and babies' breath tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Serving the bridegroom as best-man was his brother, Arthur Bielss of Holland.

Groomsmen were Michael and Richard Blake of El Campo, brothers of the bride; Latius Prikryl of San Antonio; Ronnie Persky of Bartlett; Allen Martinets of Austin, and Dr. David Mikulencak of Houston.

Wayne Bielss of Austin, nephew of the bridegroom, was junior groomsman.

Ushers were Edward Bielss of Austin, brother of the bridegroom; Gordon Swenson of Creedmoor, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Joe Zuehlke of Moody, and Larry Bartek of Temple.

Witnesses were Maxie Ellison of Rosenberg, uncle of the bride; and Mrs. Gordon Swenson of Creedmoor, sister of the bridegroom.

RECEPTION

The reception followed the ceremony in the Parish Hall of the church.

The round registration table, covered with a white cloth and overlaid with net trimmed with yellow ribbon, was centered with a yellow candle. On the table were the bride's book with a white plume pen, and the couple's picture. Assisting guests at the table was Miss Rhonda Sanders of El Campo.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth edged with lace. A yellow lace panel accented the center of the table. Crystal candelabra holding lighted yellow tapers decorated the table.

The bride's three-tiered white confection cake, decorated with yellow roses and topped with a halo of daisies and two playful cherubs, enhanced one end of the table. Assorted finger sandwiches, nuts and mints were served, and yellow fruit punch was ladled from a crystal bowl at the same table.

The bridegroom's table, covered with a beige-skirted cloth, accented with brown velvet ribbon was centered with a small tractor and seed drill backed with lighted votive cups in a fall floral arrangement. The bridegroom's German chocolate cake and silver coffee service adorned the table from which assorted finger sandwiches, nuts and mints were served.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Marvin Sanders, Misses Monica, Rhonda and Gayle Sanders, Mrs. Billy Fucik, Mrs. Carl Bruce Bain and Miss Karen Bain, all of El Campo; Miss Jayme Dornak of Dickinson, Mrs. Edward Bielss of Austin, Mrs. Gordon Swenson and Mrs. Arthur Bielss of Holland.

As the couple departed on their wedding trip, the bride was wearing an orange, navy and ivory dress and jacket ensemble with a printed scarf tied at the neckline. Navy accessories completed her attire.

The newlyweds reside at Route 1, Holland, following a wedding trip along the Texas Gulf Coast.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bielss, parents of the bridegroom, hosted the rehearsal dinner for the Blake-Bielss wedding party in the Thomas A. Edison Room of Wharton County Electric Cooperative in El Campo on December 3 at 8 p.m.

An orange and yellow floral arrangement holding lighted votive cups centered the main table. Lighted votive cups accented with greenery centered the other tables.

The engaged couple exchanged gifts and presented gifts to their attendants.

Fifty-five guests were served a dinner of barbecued beef, sausage, beans, rice salad, cole slaw, pickles, iced tea, coffee, chocolate cake and Italian cream cake.

in their cars, like at the Dairy Hill."

Well, before long, Tanksley and her troops had enough to pay cash for the new lavatories and plumbing, and some left over. From out of the tiny kitchen they began to hatch plans. First, they decided to get the church roof reshingled. Soon, it was done. "Then, we wanted to build the annex and dining hall," says Tanksley. "Eventually, we sold enough dinners to pay cash for that, and for the furniture." Although the church annex is used for many functions, it is outfitted mainly as a restaurant, with a small kitchen adjacent.

The parsonage was the next big project, and the Dining Hall Committee purchased a small lot for it for about $1100. The AME Church had had an old parsonage, but it was purchased by Georgetown's Urban Renewal Agency and leveled, leaving room for a new parking lot between the church and new parsonage. The parsonage itself was finished in March, 1976, and cost about $17,000.

"We're making enough money to make the payments on the parsonage and to put money aside for the renovation," says Tanksley. "We hope to start the renovation late this spring. I hope I live to see it finished. I think I will, but it takes money."

The ambitious renovation plans include leveling the original wooden floor and covering it with tile, installing central heat, repairing the crumbling ceiling, (a portion of which collapsed last Sunday night) and replacing the stained glass insets which have been lost in the building's graceful arched windows.

The church's most notable feature, a bell-tower which houses a hefty church bell, closed several years ago because it was unsafe, will also be restored and strengthened so that the bell can ring again.

The Dining Hall Ladies don't plan to stop there. Up to their elbows in chicken, flour and moxie, they are thinking ahead to the day when they can afford to extend their annex dining hall, adding a new and modern kitchen. Heaven only knows where they will stop.

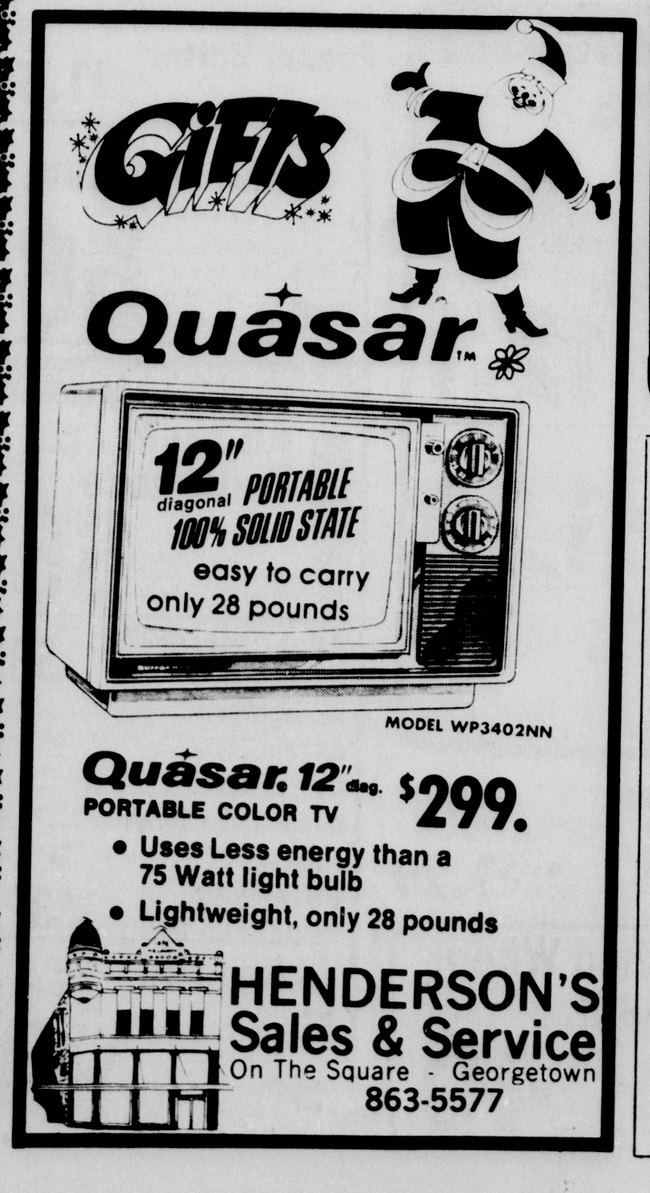

Besides Tanksley, the members of the AME Dining Hall Committee are Vice Chairwoman Dora Gadison, Secretary Ethel Harrison, Lorene Henry, Murriel Brown, Lenora Jackson, Joyce Gadison and Lucille Rose.

Occasionally the Committee tries to change its menu. Each week, it buys and sells 12 chickens, one eight-pound roast and a 20-pound turkey. "We've tried to serve a good ham, smothered chicken, and various other things, but it never works," says Tanksley. "It's not that we don't know how to do these things, but we've had people to walk out when there's no fried chicken. Fried chicken; turkey — that's the sale. If that's what they want, that's what they'll get!"

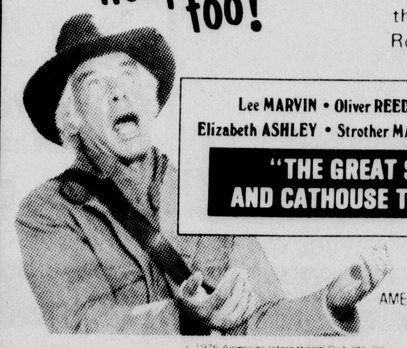

SHE COOKS FOR HER CHURCH — Martha Tanksley, chairwoman of the A.M.E. Church's Dining Hall Committee, points out the base of the bell tower, which she hopes will be restored.

Ton of pot lands two in tank

A Leander man and his companion were charged Friday with possession and delivery of about a ton of marijuana after they were arrested in Austin early that morning by narcotics agents from that city's police department and federal and state agencies.

Thomas Lee Bowen, 28, of Rt. 2, Leander, and John Dennis Dawson, 27, of 4418 Barrow in Austin, were in the Austin City Jail Friday afternoon awaiting transfer to Travis County Jail. Each man was charged with one count of possession of marijuana and one count of delivery of the drug. Bond for each was set at a total of $45,000.

LT. BOBBY SIMPSON of the Austin Police Department's Organized Crime Division told The SUN that Bowen and Dawson were arrested about 12:30 a. m. Friday in the 4200 block of Airport Blvd.

Police reports said the two were taken into custody after they attempted to sell 1,400 pounds of marijuana to undercover narcotics agents.

Police said they later found another 600 pounds of the substance when they executed a search warrant in the Manor area.

Simpson quoted reports as saying the two men offered no resistance when they were arrested. He said the investigation and completion of the case were a joint effort between the Organized Crime division of the APD, the Narcotics Division of the State Department of Public Safety, and the federal Drug Enforcement Administration.

ACCORDING TO the reports, said Simpson, the two men attempted to sell the 1,400 pounds of marijuana for $110 per pound, or $154,000. At that price an entire ton would bring $220,000.

"I would think it probably came from somewhere in Mexico," he said, when asked the origin of the substance. "It looks like a good grade of marijuana." He said that police could not be sure of the drug's origin until tests on it are completed.

The retail or "street" value of the drug would depend on where it was sold, Simpson added. "When you get down to the individual cigarette level," he said, "down south it would cost more, up north less. Once you get up near the Canadian border it could cost quite a bit."

SIMPSON said the haul from the bust probably is not any sort of record for Austin.

Simpson said "quite a few officers" from the three law enforcement agencies had been investigating the case for several weeks before the Friday morning arrests were made.

Concerning further investigation, he said, "We know there have to be other people involved, and of course we'll see what we can find to try to determine who else might be involved."

From Sheriff's Department

Walker takes a walk

D. J. Walker, the ten-year veteran of the Sheriff's Department of Williamson County, walked into the Courthouse at noon Wednesday and turned in his badge.

The unexpected resignation of Walker left Sheriff August Bosshard without a Chief Deputy Sheriff. Walker had filled the position since the death of Sheriff Henry Matysek in June, 1974.

According to the Taylor Daily Press, Walker said Thursday morning that he has not made plans for the immediate future. "But I think I will be back in law enforcement, if not now, at least about four years from now," the ex-Deputy Sheriff commented.

Asked his reasons for quitting his job, Walker was quoted as saying he had three reasons: Sheriff August Bosshard, Deputies Jim Boutwell and Leon Kelly, with a lack of cooperation from the three. Lack of discipline in the department was said to be his chief complaint.

When the SUN attempted to contact Sheriff Bosshard he was not available for comment.

The Taylor Daily Press reported that he had not fired Walker, and that the decision to quit was Walker's. "There has been a little friction among the members of the department, but that is to be expected with eight or nine employees. I hate to lose a senior officer," Bosshard said.

ABOUT TO BE BORN AGAIN — The 75-year-old Wesley Chapel A.M.E. Church of Georgetown, which is slated for a complete restoration come late spring.

Fried chicken power gives church new life

by Linda Scarbrough

Fried chicken can be a powerful thing.

Over the last eight years, a small band of dedicated Georgetown women has sold over 40,000 pieces of some of the world's best fried chicken to hungry Central Texans — and have raised almost $25,000, enough money to build an annex (complete with kitchen) for their church, a new parsonage, and to buy a parcel of land and lay an asphalt parking lot on it.

But now, the ladies of The Dining Hall Committee of Wesley Chapel A.M.E. Church on 508½ West 4th Street are embarking on their most formidable project: the complete renovation and restoration of their beloved, but crumbling, 75-year-old church.

Last Sunday marked the first day of their new drive, and the AME ladies served over 100 "Sunday dinners" and took in $137.50 — remarkable for an operation which sells delicious meals (fried chicken, roast turkey and trimmings or roast beef with salad, fresh rolls, two vegetables, dessert and tea) for $1.75 and $2 a plate. Still, it will take a lot more poultry to renovate and upgrade the graceful old church — an estimated $35,000 worth.

"We have people who eat here from every church in Georgetown," says Martha Tanksley, a professional caterer and chairwoman of the committee and originator of the weekly Sunday dinner idea. "We have members of the Swedish Methodist Church, the First Methodist Church, some from Crestview Baptist and the Roman Catholic churches. I guess we have them from everywhere: even some who don't go to church!

"Lots of our customers are students from Southwestern, but we have three people who come from Austin almost every week, and a good number who come from Leander, Jarrell, Liberty Hill and Round Rock."

Dinners are served only once a week, after Sunday morning's church services. The dining hall, in the church annex, opens at about 11:30 a.m. and closes at 2 p.m. Takeout orders are accepted.

It all started in 1968 when the AME Church needed some new lavatory facilities. "We thought we might earn enough money selling food to pay for that, so we sold fried chicken out of one little window on the side of the church," says Ms. Tanksley. "People would wait outside for their food. They'd sit and eat

the passing glance

By Don Scarbrough

My thoughts turned back about a decade this week when I read about an Idaho Baptist minister who suggested guidelines for Sunday morning sermons.

HERE'S HOW he would rate them:

G: Generally acceptable to everyone. Full of inoffensive, puerile platitudes such as "What the world needs is peace and brotherhood." Old timers walk out saying, "Wonderful! Marvelous!"

M: For the mature congregation, making the Bible relevant for today's issues — in subtle ways, of course. Contains mild suggestions for change, provoking comments such as "challenging, thought provoking."

R: Definitely restricted to those who are not upset by the truth. Tells it like it is — very threatening to some. Described as "disturbing" or "controversial," and usually indicates that the pastor has an outside source of income.

X: Positively limited to those who can handle explosive ideas. This sermon really "socks it to 'em!" The kind of message that landed Jeremiah in jail and got Amos run out of town. Those leaving before the benediction murmur, "Shocking" or "What poor taste!" Indicates that the minister has his suitcase handy.

THIS VETERAN'S advice to young preachers is never try for the "R," much less the "X," until you have earned the love of your flock by being their pastor in comforting them in their affliction. Then you have the right — yes, even God's mandate — to afflict the comfortable.

TEN OR SO YEARS AGO, when the Rev. Carroll Thompson was thumping the Bible and trying to beat a bit of religion in some of us fellows, he came up with the idea of a genuine old-fashioned revival and presented it to his Administrative Board, seeking the Board's approval and guidance.

Well, everyone just sat there for a few seconds and finally one of the distinguished deans of Southwestern University, a long-time member of the Board, spoke up. "Frankly," he said, "it doesn't appeal to me. I have worked things out, I am at peace with my Maker and I don't want a revival preacher getting me mixed up and agitated."

ANOTHER LONG SILENCE. Then J. H. "Buster" Compton had his say. "I'm for it," he asserted strongly. "I think it does me good to have the hell scared out of me every once in a while!"

There was a soft but fervent "amen" from the rear of the room and a quick vote won approval for the revival, which, I believe, was the last one held by the First United Church here. And, just frankly, old Buster hasn't had any hell left in him since that very date!

THE DANCE OF THE CANDY CANES — Westside School children gave their Christmas command performance December 16 and 17 to a capacity crowd. They provided a musical extravaganza to the delight of all those who attended.

County swine flu shots stopped

The Williamson County arm of the federal swine flu program got jabbed again last Thursday, as federal health officials once again temporarily halted the program to investigate possible dangerous effects of the vaccine.

Swine flu inoculations have been stopped for two weeks while a possible connection between the vaccine and a generally nonfatal but sometimes paralytic disease called Guillain-Barre syndrome is investigated.

THIS LATEST SETBACK to the federal program is only a precautionary measure because no link between the flu shots and the disease has been found.

After giving nearly 10,000 flu shots in Williamson County, the health department here has had no reports of any unexpected adverse reactions, said health department official Diane Sansom. "We have had a few reports of chills, fever or sore arms, but these were expected reactions that everyone given a flu shot was warned about."

"These are not considered unusual reactions," said Sansom.

Speaking about the county program, Sansom said, "We have stopped giving the shots for two weeks. I don't know what will happen after that."

A TOTAL OF 9,392 shots have been given in the county so far. The Health department planned to give more. "That's less than 10,000 in a county of around 50,000 people," said Sansom.

Saying that the program was not as successful as they had hoped, Sansom added, "I think all the publicity, first about the vaccine manufacturers wanting liability insurance and then about people dying or being paralyzed, has scared people off."

Asked about her personal opinion of the program's future, Sansom said "I'd just as soon get rid of the stuff."

GHS musicians try for All-State

Five Georgetown High School Band members have made the Area Band and are on their way to All-State Band tryouts, February 10.

THESE FIVE YOUNG PEOPLE have competed in District, Regional and finally Area band competitions to attain the honor of participating in All-State tryouts.

According to band director, Rodney Klett there are 19 regions in the state of Texas, which make up five areas. In the region which includes Georgetown, 1,700 students participated in the tryouts. "The average school will only have one, two or at most three students make the Area band. It is unusual to have five."

In Regional, Area and State competition, musicians from all school classifications (including AAAA) are pitted against one another. They try out in a large auditorium with all the student musicians and band directors present. Three judges sit with their backs to the person trying out and mark their ballots on a scale of 1-20, rating such factors as tone quality and musicianship.

THE ALL-STATE BAND competition is part of the Texas Music Educators' Association Annual Convention, being held February 8-11 in San Antonio. Participants arrive the night of February 8. Tryouts for the All-State band will begin the morning of February 9. By that afternoon, the two bands will have been selected and rehearsals will begin for the All-State concert which will be on Saturday, February 11.

In the past 11 years, since Klett has been band director at Georgetown High School, the town has produced four All-State Band members.

Week's news in a nutshell

President-elect Carter is struggling to name as many of his key people as possible before Christmas. Generally speaking, his appointments thus far have been fairly conservative, surprising both friends and foes.

GASOLINE PRICES will be up a couple of cents per gallon soon. The price of oil bought from OPEC nations will be going up about 10 percent, which, when translated into domestic gasoline production, means a corresponding boost there. Saudi Arabia, the biggest producer, was against any price increase and has said it will not cooperate.

Round Rock will be having its Home Rule vote on April 2, with an affirmative ballot easily predictable.

—0—

A hazardous highway situation in Cedar Park will get remedial treatment early next year when the Highway Department constructs a continuous left hand turn lane, 1.7 miles long, running the length of that city on U.S. 183.

—0—

ROUND ROCK (and probably Cedar Park) city folks are trying to reserve a place on the Dec. 27 Williamson County Commissioner meeting agenda for the purpose of "discussing thoroughly" the ambulance contract that would put an extra expense on those two cities.

—0—

Taylor led other Williamson County towns in sales tax rebates during the calendar year of 1976, with $40,117.53. Georgetown came in second with $27,953.96 and Round Rock banked $13,313.13. These rebates are from the 1 cent portion of the 5 cent sales tax imposed by the state. Total rebates to county towns for the year amounted to $95,829.

CONVICTED KILLER Gilmore is back in the hospital after another overdose of drugs. He is sentenced to die by firing squad January 17, but apparently wants to get it over before that time.

There will be no more swine flu shots until the latest scare — that the vaccine may be linked to a generally nonfatal, but sometimes paralytic disease — has been cleared up or lies down. About 100 persons have been struck by the disease, half of them several days after taking the flu shot. Only two Texans were listed as victims and both are recovering.

The Dallas Cowboys will entertain the Los Angeles Rams at 4 p.m. Sunday in the first round of the pro-bowl playoffs.

PRESIDENT FORD, TALL IN DEFEAT

The transition that is taking place in Washington — one President taking over from another — has not always been orderly, has rarely been comfortable and has never been this genuinely cordial.

PRESIDENT FORD stands tall in defeat. President-elect Carter has repeatedly acknowledged Mr. Ford's uncommonly courteous and helpful manner and reportedly has said that he would be honored to have Mr. Ford serve in some appropriate capacity in the Carter Administration.

Never in the history of our nation has there been this degree of transitional co-operation.

Vermont Royster has watched inaugurations since F.D.R.'s first and has researched those previous. He agrees that the civility of this Ford-Carter turnover is unprecedented.

Neither of the two Adamses would even attend the inaugurations of their successors, Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson.

PRESIDENT-ELECT LINCOLN had to take over from President Buchanan without one word of communication, without the least gesture of co-operation.

When Franklin Roosevelt was elected he rejected any liaison with incumbent President Herbert Hoover. On Inauguration Day, Mr. Hoover was left to depart without ceremony — to make his own way to Union Station — without even Secret Service protection. And from there he departed by train for New York.

More recently, though Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower had worked closely for years — after the election there was no personal cordiality between the two men.

When it was Gen. Eisenhower's turn to move out his public attitude toward John Kennedy was politely proper but privately he kept referring to his successor as "that boy."

SO THE SHIFT IN POWER — Gerald Ford to Jimmy Carter — is being accomplished with a mutuality unique in our history.

President Ford has left nothing undone to facilitate a comfortable and orderly transfer of authority. His Cabinet was immediately made available for briefings. The presidential plane was placed at President-eiect Carter's disposal as was Blair House.

Considering the campaigning which goes before, these two months of transition have to be most difficult; both men by now are — or are becoming — accustomed to subservience.

ROYSTER SUGGESTS that someday we might want to give consideration to adopting the British system where the turnover is accomplished without this November-January gap — which does tend to leave our nation vulnerable for two months.

But until the big switch can be accomplished more efficiently — these two men — this year — are managing the transition with dignity which is a credit to both of them and a worthy example for the future.

Football scoring big in Japan

By Ross Atkin

Grambling University's football games normally fall into two categories: "home" and "away." But neither designation told the story of the Tigers' 1976 opener, which was truly a "far, far away" contest — some 6,000 miles from Louisiana home turf as the jumbo jet flies.

Landing in Tokyo after a 13-hour flight, Grambling met Morgan State (of Maryland) in the first regular-season American college football game ever played outside the Western Hemisphere.

The football rivalry between the predominantly black schools attracted a capacity crowd to Korakuen Stadium, the 50,000-seat home of the popular Yomiuri Giants baseball team.

And this was not an isolated instance of U.S. football in Japan.

Last January two American college all-star squads drew more than 60,000 spectators in the first annual Japan Bowl. And last summer the National Football League's St. Louis Cardinals and San Diego Chargers met in the league's first exhibition game ever played in Japan. A crowd of 38,000 paid up to $26.50 to watch the NFL game in misty rain — too few spectators, however, to prevent promoter Frank Takahashi of Los Angeles from losing nearly half a million dollars in the deal.

Yet, despite that setback, football, definitely a seedling in Japan's cultural soil, seems to be taking root.

More American teams are being invited to play in Japan; department stores are doing a big business in NFL merchandise; highlight films of American college and pro games appear on Japanese television several times a week; two magazines, Touchdown and American Football, devoted exclusively to the game are on sale; and the number of football teams at Japanese colleges continues to increase.

"In 10 to 20 years we expect Japanese football to be as popular and as good as Japanese baseball," says George Tottori, a director of the American Football Association of Japan.

So far Japan has few knowledgeable followers of the game. One person who rates as an expert is Tatsuhiko Mori, perhaps the country's most avid football fan. Mori, a journalist and promoter, named one of his sons "Unitas" after the famous American quarterback, Johnny Unitas. For the past few years he has made frequent visits to the United States to study college football, primarily at the Universities of Oklahoma, Alabama, and Texas.

Mori has been such an avid student of the Oklahoma football program that one local magazine rated him among the Sooners' top 10 fans. He has religiously attended practices, film sessions, coaches' meetings, and "chalk talks."

At present the playing opportunities in Japan are limited, with most careers held to four years of club-style football in college. More than 70 colleges have teams, but fields are generally poor, skill levels much below those in the U.S., and attendance poor. The better collegians may go on to semi-pro leagues, where squads nicknamed Sharks, Silver Stars, and Buffaloes represent such firms as Toyota Motors and Wrangler jeans. The riot squad of the Tokyo police even fields a team.

The size and skill gaps between Japanese and American players have been considerable, based on recent results. In 1971, Utah State beat the Kanto All-Stars 50-6 and the Kansai All-Stars 46-6.

Mori would someday like to see a Japanese college team play the Division III U. S. champions, potentially the most equitable size and skill match-up.

Football was introduced in Japan by a missionary teaching at a Christian university in 1934. The sport was banned during World War II, but eventually reintroduced by American occupation forces.

The public's fascination for football has been heightened by seeing mammoth U.S. players in person and witnessing the accompanying pageantry — marching bands, cheerleaders, etc.

Young people have taken to buying colorful NFL merchandise with faddish zeal. But clothing sales are only part of a multimillion-dollar football trade, which also includes everything from pencil sharpeners to handkerchiefs and alarm clocks — all stamped with team emblems.

'Now remember, this administration will try to create jobs, but at the same time practice economy'

AUSTIN NOTEBOOK

By Bill Kidd

AUSTIN — Christmas is indeed a-coming, and both the goose and party-goers alike are getting fat.

So, in more or less the spirit of the season, here's a Christmas list of presents which the Jolly Old Elf might distribute for various politicos et al.:

FOR GOV. DOLPH BRISCOE: another term as governor (he really wants it, Santa; he's just a little shy about asking for it.)

For Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby: another term as lieutenant governor (since he knows what Dolph wants).

For Attorney General John Hill: Oops. Sorry, John, but Dolph asked first. Do you have a second choice?

For Secretary of State Mark White: First, ask John Hill if he doesn't want it any more.

For Comptroller Bob Bullock: a new copying machine and a big John Connally picture to inspire him.

FOR JOHN CONNALLY: laryngitis, to be delivered to Bob Bullock (isn't there anything else you want, John?)

For Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington: a whooping crane in a pear tree (one that won't fly into TV antennas and upset the New York Times).

For the State Supreme Court: you know what they want (most of them, anyway).

For U.S. Rep. Ron Paul of Houston: a couple of hundred votes (Rep.-elect Bob Gammage wants the same thing).

For Southwestern Bell Telephone: a brand-new Public Utilities Commission.

For Texas' railroads: a big lump of coal (but not in slurry form).

For Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong: a map of Washington (with the Department of the Interior marked).

For Agriculture Commissioner John White: similar to above, but with the Department of Agriculture marked.

For U.S. Rep. Barbara Jordan: anything she wants.

For the Texas Democratic Party: lots of peanut butter, peanut brittle, salted peanuts, etc.

For the Texas Republic Party: one big transfusion.

FOR THE TRIAL LAWYERS, doctors and insurance companies: a medical malpractice insurance bill (wait — better make that three bills).

For Sen. Lloyd Doggett and Rep. John Wilson of Austin and LaGrange, respectively: a nice sunset for various state agencies to ride off into (as per their sunset bills).

For the Department of Highways & Public Transportation: some concrete action by the Legislature.

For Banking Commissioner Robert E. Stewart: no more calls about South Texas banks.

For the Railroad Commission: a one-per-cent oil allowable to really shock the Federal Government.

For the Board of Barber Examiners and Cosmetology Commission: an end to the hair-splitting arguments among their members.

For the Department of Public Welfare: a stamp collecting kit ($1,200,000 size).

For Board of Insurance Chairman Joe Christie: Sen. John Tower.

For Speaker Bill Clayton: some foam-rubber gavels (or helmets for the House staff).

FOR THE STATE AS A WHOLE: moderation by the Legislature (please, Santa) on that surplus. (Which is not to be considered a gift to the Legislature.)

For everybody: a Merry Christmas and Happy (despite the coming session) New Year.

Wesleyan breaks new ground

It's full steam ahead for the new Wesleyan nursing home, now under construction near the intersection of Leander road and IS-35, at the south edge of town.

Interestingly, the nursing home is full, or nearly so, of patients even as the ground is broken. Transfers from the Wesleyan, on University Avenue, will occupy it in the initial days of its completion. Operating under a contract with the State Department of Public Welfare, success of the new institution is as assured as any new undertaking could reasonably assumed to be.

BUT, WHAT ABOUT the Wesleyan, minus about 90 residents? Does it face a rocky future?

The directors and the administration are confident that it does not. Several hundred applications for admittance are on file and Wesleyan people are confident the beautiful retirement home will be utilized to the limit of its ability to serve, for the first time actually, as a retirement home.

The Wesleyan was conceived, as many will remember, as a retirement institution, a place for people who were still active and in good health, to enjoy life without many of the burdensome duties associated with living in a house or even in an apartment. However, the Wesleyan concept was years ahead of its time and had to be abandoned. Nursing-type patients were admitted and the Wesleyan served, majestically, but not exactly as it had planned.

Now it will try again. It will offer itself and its services to people who want to shed duties around home, who want to escape the loneliness of living alone, who need companionship and planned activities, all of which the Wesleyan offers.

GEORGETOWN IS FORTUNATE indeed that the Wesleyan directors decided to build here. When the nursing home goes into service the annual operating budget will exceed $1,500,000, no small item in our economy. But even better, we have the satisfaction of knowing that the Wesleyan is bringing comfort, health and contentment to many, many people who need those things and might otherwise not be finding them.

A good man quits

We don't know why D. J. Walker quit his job in the sheriff's department, but we'll say one thing loud and clear — he was a doggone good man and the county is poorer for not having him on its law enforcement payroll.

WE'VE WATCHED D.J. since his high school days when he was an outstanding athlete and we know him to be richly endowed in the qualities that a police officer should possess. Any resume of Walker should contain such phrases of "A family man. . .faithful to his trust. . .totally honest and honorable. . .deeply concerned with his job and personal performance." Wherever he goes, we wish him well.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON -- The former chairman of the Consumer Product Safety Commission has been caught in Washington's "revolving door" system.

There has always been a revolving door between government and industry. Top executives rotate from industry to government to industry until it's hard to tell the corporate executives from the government officials. Many businessmen wind up in Washington regulating the industries they just left. And many federal officials go to work for companies that benefited from their government decisions.

The revolving door needs to be watched all the more closely during a political changeover. With the Democrats coming into government and the Repubicans going out, the door is really beginning to spin. For example, Richard Simpson, former chairman of the Consumer Product Safety Commission, got out of government before the post-election rush. His duties in that job put him in charge of setting safety standards for consumer products.

But Simpson exited government via the revolving door. He has now turned up as a paid consultant for two groups that set industrial standards, the American National Standards Institute and the American Society for Testing Materials. They serve many businesses that are regulated by the commission that Simpson used to head.

Simpson told us that he doesn't see anything wrong with his new affiliations. He pointed out that the two groups aren't manufacturers, although many of their members are regulated by his former commission.

It is illegal for a government regulator to take a job in the industry he was regulating for at least a year after leaving government. The case of Richard Simpson's passage through Washington's revolving door, therefore, has been quietly submitted to the Justice Department for investigation.

Nevertheless, the revolving door is still spinning, and all too often, the public interest gets lost in the shuffle.

FBI Cleanup: There is a need for the press to occupy an adversary role in Washington. But we also like to report some pleasant news. Lately, the press has been knocking FBI Chief Clarence Kelley and we've done our share. We reported, for example, that Kelley had accepted a luxury weekend in New York City as the guest of an insurance company doing business with the FBI.

But Kelley also deserves some praise. He has brought an openness to the FBI that has been missing in the past. He has refused to cover FBI mistakes and has ordered his press office to acknowledge FBI errors, past and present.

Kelley has also ended the statistics games that the FBI used to play. The FBI made itself look good by concentrating on easy-to-solve cases. Kelley no longer permits this. The number of investigative cases has dropped, therefore, from 700,000 to 550,000 a year. But they are all legitimate cases.

Safety Hazard: The ordinary street light may be a health hazard. Investigators have discovered that the lamps emit ultraviolet radiation when their outer glass casing is broken. Overexposure may cause severe burns and skin tumors.

More than 100 street-lamp burns have been reported in recent months. But experts believe many people have been overexposed to broken street lights without realizing it.

The Food and Drug Administration has proposed new safeguards. But enforcement is voluntary. Reps. John Moss (D.-Calif.) and Toby Moffit (D.-Conn.) have complained to the Food and Drug Administration. They want mandatory standards.

New Brooms: The House Democrats surprised just about everyone last week by choosing Texas Rep. Jim Wright as their new leader.

Most observers had expected either California's Philip Burton or Missouri's Richard Bolling to be the new majority leader.

But, in an agonizingly close election, the moderate Wright won out. His victory will help place the new speaker of the house, Massachusetts' "Tip" O'Neill, in firm control of the House Democratic majority. Burton and Bolling are both reformers who might have given O'Neill stiff competition.

But Wright is a mild-mannered legislator who will probably go along with the wishes of the political establishment. However, his election could be bad news for Carter's transition team. The reform-minded Burton would have gone along with Carter's ideas on bureaucratic reorganization. But Wright is more likely to fight any serious attempt at shaking up the status quo.

Intelligence Squabble: Last year, many of the secret activities of the CIA and other intelligence agencies were exposed to the glaring publicity of a congressional investigation. The CIA got off with an official slap on the wrist. In recent months, the scandal has faded from the headlines.

But we've discovered that a serious split has developed within the super-secret intelligence agencies. The fight is over foreign policy.

On one side of the rift is a new breed of cold warriors. The intelligence hard-liners see the Soviet Union as increasingly more hostile. The Soviets, according to these worried intelligence analysts, are interested only in confronting the United States at every opportunity.

But not all intelligence experts agree with this dire assessment. In fact, behind-the-scenes, many intelligence observers are taking a more moderate view of the Soviet position. According to the moderate camp, the Soviets are cautious and suspicious, but not overtly hostile.

Both groups are pushing their views hard. The moderates in the intelligence community are working overtime to catch President-elect Jimmy Carter's attention.

As one high-level intelligence source told us: "Jimmy Carter's job will be to walk that thin line ... and to find the truth."

GHS boys lose in CenTex tourneys

Georgetown High School's boys' varsity and junior varsity basketball teams lost in the first rounds of a couple of Central Texas tournaments Thursday, while the GHS girls' team was slated to go against Llano in Leander Friday morning.

The boys' JV lost to Rogers 60-49 Thursday in the first round of the Salado tournament and was scheduled to play Lorena late Friday afternoon in the consolation round.

Meanwhile the varsity boys lost to New Braunfels Canyon 67-49 in the Lockhart tournament. They were to play San Antonio Randolph in the losers' bracket, also late Friday.

The Georgetown girls went against Llano at 10:30 a.m. Friday in the Leander tournament and were scheduled to play San Saba, Leander, or Lampasas, depending on the outcome of their own game and that of the Lampasas-Leander contest.

Time for planting trees, shrubs

Although most people shun the outdoors when cold weather arrives, that's the best time to add winter hardy trees and shrubs to the home landscape, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service landscape horticulturist.

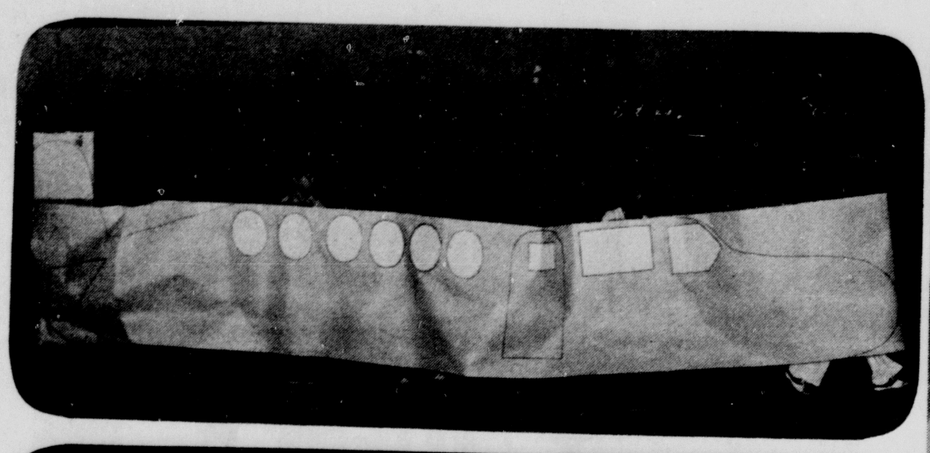

"Texas weather allows trees and shrubs to set out good root systems in the colder months," points out Dr. William Welch. "This allows the plants set out in the fall and winter to better withstand summer drought than those set out in the spring."

The main concern when setting out trees and shrubs in the winter is to keep them watered to avoid damage during freezing weather. This is especially true for evergreens which have a tendency to dry out or contract leaf burn, warns Welch.

The horticulturist also suggests that newly planted trees and shrubs be staked firmly to prevent damage from high winds.

"New plants should not be fertilized until after the first growing season. A good mulch of hay, dried grass clippings or leaves will help protect the root system from extreme temperature changes and will help retain moisture," explains the horticulturist.

Nurseries are beginning to get in good supplies of trees and shrubs, so Welch advises homeowners to start considering additions to the landscape in the weeks ahead.

Westside show

SANTA CLAUS IS ON THEIR MINDS — The third and fourth graders at Westside School gave their Christmas programs on Thursday and Friday afternoons to a standing-room-only crowd of parents, brothers, sisters and friends. Third graders had a sing-song including familiar Christmas songs and some rather unique new numbers. Costumes for the performers ranged from Christmas trees to candy canes and each portion of the program brought cheers of delight from the audience. The fourth graders' floor show was called "Santa Rides a Jumbo Jet". This imaginative skit was as colorfully costumed as that produced by the younger children. The performers danced and sang and the audience was again beside themselves with enthusiasm.

The Santa Claus of today is a composite character

by Peggy Swift

Your scowl you'd best hide
and your temper don't show,
Santa likes Georgetown and
I'll tell you how I know,
Santa Claus is coming back to town.

Georgetown is one of Santa's favorite places. The red-suited gift-giver is returning to the city on December 18 and he will be here holding forth in the house on the courthouse square for four days, December 20 to 24.

DO YOU BELIEVE in Santa Claus? That is a question asked by generations of children and adults alike and usually answered by a faraway look and a smile that recalls the magic of Christmas.

Santa Claus is certainly one of the most colorful and kaleidoscopic creations of the Christmas season.

The original St. Nicholas was probably a Bishop in Asia Minor in what is now the southern part of Turkey during the first half of the fourth century. He became the patron saint of many countries where the Eastern Orthodox Church was the primary religious institution. He was also claimed as patron saint by mechants, bakers, mariners, and children.

THE MOST FAMOUS legend of St. Nicholas' generosity is the tale of his throwing three bags of gold on three consecutive nights into the house of a noble family whose fortune had been lost, changing their poverty into wealth. The tale has further grown that he threw the gold from the street into the chimney where it landed in stockings which the three daughters of the family had hung by the fire to dry.

Dutch children would put their wooden shoes by the fireplace before going to bed. They lined the shoes with straw and placed an apple on the straw. The straw was for Sin Nikolaas' donkey and "swarte Piet", his servant, got the apple, according to Tristram P. Coffin's The Book of Christmas Folklore."

The Reformation changed St. Nicholas as it did many other aspects of December celebrations. Just as the Roman Catholics did not want to credit any Saturnalian spirit with the mid-winter dispensation of gifts, the Protestants did not want to credit any Roman Catholic saint with gift giving. Thus, a more secular figure came on the scene known as Father Christmas or Papa Noel.

IN THE NEW WORLD, the Dutch Sinterklass gradually became anglicized into Santa Claus. He lost the title and robes of a bishop in the church and his visit on December 5 was changed to Christmas Eve. The red and white color of his bishop's vestiments were retained, however, and incorporated into the costume of Father Christmas.

The final stroke in transforming a lean, tall, straight Bishop of Myra into the rolly-polly elf who today goes sliding down chimneys all over the country was probably the poem, "An Account of a Visit from St. Nicholas," popularly called "The Night Before Christmas," believed to be written by Dr. Clement Clarke Moore.

Through all the changes from lean to round, bishop to elf, St. Nicholas has remained one of the chief figures of the Christmas celebration. Possibly the editorial by Francis P. Church, published in The New York Sun (September 21, 1897) in response to a letter from eight-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon can best explain the reasons.

"YES, VIRGINIA, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished. . .

"No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

The price of electricity must continue to go up.
Texas Power & Light wants its customers to know why.
Since TP&L began operation almost 65 years ago, providing dependable electric service at a fair price has been a constant aim.
One measure of accomplishment of this aim is the fact that today, the average price of each kilowatt-hour of electricity supplied to residential customers is about the same as it was in 1951.
In 1963 and 1965, TP&L made the eleventh and twelfth general reductions in the price since it began operation. The average price of residential electricity dropped from about 4 cents per kilowatt-hour in 1951 to about 2 cents per kilowatt-hour in 1971.
Costs of producing and supplying electric power began to go up at an unprecedented rate in the early 1970's. In 1972, 1974 and again in 1975, it was necessary for TP&L to ask its customers to pay more for their electricity. The average per kilowatt-hour price rose from about 2 cents in 1971 to about 4 cents in 1976.
In the 1970-1975 period, TP&L's annual expenditures for constructing generating plants, transmission lines and other facilities increased from $98 million in 1970 to $268 million in 1975. These expenditures are expected to be several billion dollars in the next 10 years.
Fuels used to produce electricity cost $26 million in 1970 and $147 million in 1975. The cost of fuels will be almost $200 million in 1976.
Texas Power & Light will continue its efforts to provide you and all of its customers with dependable electric service at the lowest possible price. But, as our costs go up, so must the price of electricity.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Even when you know the proper way to climb with skis and the way up becomes easier, it still exerts you. However, the way is made even less of an effort when you think of the rewarding ride down.

The reward of an eternal life with God is easier still because it is a gift.

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Attend church . . . learn more of this wonderful gift.

Discover 4-H

By CAROLYN BONNER & EDWARD WILKIE

THERE WILL BE a new grain sorghum production project in effect for the 1976-77 4-H year. This project will be open to any 4-H member having reached 16 years of age during 1976 and capable of farming a sorghum crop. The objectives of this project are: (1) to encourage young people to enter agriculture as a profession, (2) to involve family members in a demonstration-type project, (3) to teach, demonstrate and apply sound agricultural practices, and (4) to recognize 4-H members for achievement in field crop projects. The entry deadline for participation in this project has been moved to January 15, 1977. Any interested 4-H members should contact the County Extension Office for a registration form and copy of the production rules.

MRS. LESTER C. JOHNSON, President of the Central Texas Rabbit Association (CTRA) has informed us of a meeting for anyone interested in rabbits on January 13 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Old Quarry Branch of the Austin Public Library in northwest Austin. Mr. Gus Person, Guadalupe County Extension Agent, will speak to the group on 4-H Rabbit Projects and organizing a Rabbit Show.

Mrs. Johnson hopes this meeting will be a kind of workshop for all 4-H leaders unfamiliar with rabbit programs and rabbit shows. This would be an excellent opportunity for interested 4-H leaders and members in Williamson County to pick up lots of useful information and ideas. Rabbit projects are a definite area we can use to involve more youngsters in our 4-H program.

ENTRIES for the Taylor Livestock and Poultry Show close at 5 p.m. Monday, Dec. 20, 1976. All entries must be in the Taylor Chamber of Commerce Office by this date. Late entries will not be accepted.

WE WOULD LIKE TO WISH EVERYONE A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR!

Penicks to give Burnet performance

Guest performers for the noon-time meeting of the Kiwanis Club in Burnet at the Highlander on Thursday, Dec. 30, will be a husband and wife musical team, Professor R. Cochrane Penick, harpsichordist, and Mrs. Penick, recorder, both of Southwestern University. The public is invited.

Also performing with the Penicks will be Dyanne Fry, recorder, a former student at Southwestern University and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fry of Burnet.

The program includes baroque trio sonatas for recorders and harpsichord.

Penick, organist, harpsichordist, composer and lecturer, is professor of organ and sacred music in the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University. REEL TO REAL LIFE -- I should like to know something of the real life of Melissa Sue Anderson who plays Mary in Little House on the Prairie. Is she older than the character she plays? Agnes Marie Summers, Tampa, Fla.

Melissa is very much like the character she plays, a somewhat shy, straight-A student. She was born Sept. 26, 1962, making her 14. I'm not sure how old her character is supposed to be, though. Melissa first got into acting at the recommendation of her dancing teacher. She got an agent and went right to work doing TV commercials. Melissa's first acting job was in an episode of Shaft, which won her the part of Mary on Little House. Right now, besides reading, she'd like to learn to fly.

RATINGS WINNER -- Recently I saw the movie "Gone With the Wind." I would like to know what the ratings of the movie were and I would like to know where I could write to the film producers of the movie. Louise Wirts, Franklin Lakes, N.J.

NBC's ratings soared like an eagle for its two-day showing of "Gone With the Wind." About 90,000,000 watched the first half and 110,000,000 the second night, giving them a 66 per cent share of the audience. The film was produced in 1939 by David O. Selznick, who passed away in 1965. It was released through MGM, though, so you might want to write there for some information. It's Metro Goldwyn Mayer, 10202 Washington Bl., Culver City, Los Angeles, Calif.

GODFATHERS -- Both Al Pacino and Robert de Niro played in "Godfather II" made to look older than I would think they are. How old are they in real life and where were both born? Tina DeWitt, Bantam, Conn.

Both actors were born in New York City. De Niro is 31 years old and Pacino is 36.

TV Star Scene

Henry Winkler, who was recently named National Chairman of the "Toys for Tots" campaign, has also been designated the first National Honorary Youth Chairman of the Epilepsy Foundation of America . . . Stephen Collins, who played Hugh Sloane in the film "All the President's Men," has been signed for the lead in NBC's Best Seller: "The Rhinemann Exchange," which is in production now in Mexico. He plays a U.S. intelligence agent involved in a WW II espionage exchange between a group of Americans and Germans. Also cast have been Roddy McDowall, Rene Auberjonois and Ben Wright.

James Broderick, who stars as the father on Family, is known to have a great rapport with fellow performers Gary Frank, Kristy McNichol and Meredith Baxter Birney. One of the reasons is that Broderick has three children of his own, aged roughly the same as the series stars: Martha, 25; Janice, 20 and Matthew, 13. His one plaintive question in reference to his family problems is, "Where were those 'Family' scriptwriters when I needed them?" . . . Tom Snyder, host of NBC's Tomorrow, will portray himself in an upcoming McCloud drama entitled, "McCloud Meets Dracula." The guest cast includes Diana Muldaur, John Carradine and Michael Sacks. It is not known who plays Old Drac.

The topical and satirical "Doonesbury" -- the first comic strip to win a Pulitzer Prize -- will make its debut as an animated TV special on NBC in the spring. Garry Trudeau, the 28-year-old creator of the strip, has written the script for the show, to be produced by Academy Award-winning animators John and Faith Hubley . . . Michael Moriarty and Kevin Conway will star in "The Deadliest Season," a two-hour film about a professional hockey player's hunger for success at any cost, to air later this season on CBS. Patrick O'Neal and Andrew Duggan will be special guests in the picture.

Oscar-winner Red Buttons and gravel-voiced film veteran Lionel Stander have been signed to star in "The Sunshine Boys," a pilot being made at NBC. Neil Simon has written the hour-long adaptation . . . Michael Landon will host "Doug Henning's World of Magic," the acclaimed magician's second live special, airing Dec. 23 . . . Gladys Knight and the Pips and Doc Severinson will welcome 1977 in a three-hour musical special, "Doc and Gladys Celebrate," following the Dec. 31 Tonight Show on NBC.

In 1969 Allan Sloane won an Emmy for his sensitive drama, "Teacher, Teacher," about a young retarded boy. Now he has made a sequel, in which the young boy Freddie is 19 years old, called "Emily, Emily." The show will be presented as a Hallmark Hall of Fame drama later this year, and stars John Forsythe, Karen Grassle and James Farentino, and introduces Tom Hulce as Freddie . . . Two comedians, Steve Landesberg and Jack Riley, will play con men in an upcoming Rockford Files.

Another captain recently called on The Captain and Tennille for help. He was Captain Jacques-Yves Cousteau, the famed undersea explorer and conservation spokesman. Cousteau was in the United States and wanted to talk about the two stars appearing at several forthcoming conservation events. They were more than willing.

Said Toni, "I think he is one of the most incredible men . . . he's a saint to me."

Toni and Daryl are both deeply into conservation causes, an interest that predates their meeting. Now both are vegetarians, and says Toni, "I won't even wear anything made of fur. If I have to wear fake fur, I'll do that for the television show, but I'm not crazy about the idea. I'm very opposed to taking the life of any living creature . . . I don't know whether our convictions are intellectual, emotional, or a combination of both, but it's the way we've chosen to live and we're never reluctant to encourage others to do likewise."

TOO YOUNG -- Is Freddie Prinze really only 22? He seems older. Also, is he married? G. Leonard, New Iberia, La.

Yes, he really is a baby. He was 22 in June. Not too young for marriage, though. He's married to the former Katherine Cochran and they have a son, Freddie James, who was born this past March.

TOO MANY TONIGHTS -- The "First Fifty Years" on NBC reminded me how great Steve Allen was on the Tonight Show when it started. Why did he leave the show? Albert Barth, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

While Allen was doing the Tonight Show, he also had a network show on NBC in prime time once a week, called The Steve Allen Show. The Tonight Show has never gotten the enormous audience that a prime time show gets, even though it has the biggest audience for its time period. So, Allen decided to concentrate on the weekly show. Plus, he was beginning to get weary of the Tonight Show grind.

Review

Executive Suite
By Joan Martin

Will Stacey get out on bail after bombing her father's factory? Will porno star Yvonne survive her desperate suicide attempt? Did Howell suffer a heart attack, or was it merely acid indigestion that caused him to choke after Don's assualt on him?

Tune in next week to -- Love of Life? Search for Tomorrow? The Secret Storm?

No. It's Executive Suite that forces its audience to linger in suspense from week to week as it exposes the scintillating lives of Cardway Corporation's naughty little devils. Like the traditionai soap operas whose format Executive Suite imitates, the series is centered on a not-so-typical American family, the Wallings. There's Don, the workaholic president of Cardway, his beautiful but jittery wife Helen, and their two rebellious and alienated children. Stacey is the Bel Air bomber. Brian is a sensitive wanderer in love with a black schoolteacher who affectionately calls him "Honky."

Other principal characters are Howell Rutledge, the ruthless Vice-President, his scheming wife Astrid, and the amazingly diversified members of the board of directors. There is a token youth, woman, black and alcoholic member of the board. A Chicano should join them soon.

Finally, the cast of all classes is completed by a motorcycle-riding proletarian who demands increased protection for the workers, a chauffeur who works his way up to draftsman, and then becomes an industrial spy, and a nymphet secretary who sends secret messages to her boss/lover.

When it first premiered, Executive Suite promised something different, fresh and relavant. To the television viewers who were overnourished from a steady diet of sit-coms, cop shows, and family fairy tales, the series promised a tantalizing appetizer. What it has delivered amounts to little more than cliche-ridden plots that insult the intelligence of the television-viewing public.

A lolly-pop loving cop we can accept. An egomaniac like Phyllis is believable. But a secretary's affair with her boss, the generation gap, and an executive's son working his way up the hard way are time-worn, sorry and boring themes.

But if the characters are not believable, the actors who portray them are. Stephen Elliot, in his role as Howell, is just about the meanest villain we've seen on television in years. Somehow, Mitchell Ryan as Don, although ambitious and hard, generates sympathy for his character. And although Helen is hopelessly self-righteous, Sharon Acker makes her problems feel like every mother's.

The elaborate settings, in which even a hospital appears to be a country club, no doubt add to the attractiveness of the show. Even its theme music is inspiring. My main quarrel, however, lies with the characterization and story line. They are simply too much to swallow in prime time.

So, if Executive Suite continues in the best traditions of the soap opera, expect to see a murder or two, a couple of pregnancies and abortions, a homosexual relationship revealed, and one very long court trial.

Liberty Hill NEWS

BY HOWARD N. WILSON

Again this year there is going to be a Community League Basketball Program in our community for both boys and girls in grades three through six. The tryouts for the teams will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, January 8, 1977, in the school gym.

Coaches and assistants will be needed to bring about a successful program. Everyone who is willing to help with this program is urged to attend the organizational meeting which will be held in the open area by the high school at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, January 6. It is necessary to have the support and participation of not only parents but also anyone else who is interested in the welfare and happiness of the youth of our community. Please make plans to attend the organizational meeting on January 6, and take an active part in our Community League Basketball Program!

The third grade of The Liberty Hill Elementary School was the big winner in "the attendance contest" for the second six weeks. The attendance record for the remaining grades are as follows: second place-fourth grade, third place-second grade, fourth place-first grade, fifth place-fifth grade, sixth place-sixth grade, seventh place-fourth grade, eighth place-kindergarten.

We want to congratulate the members of the third grade for gaining the distinction of having the best attendance record.

The Liberty Hill High School Girls' Varsity Basketball Team lost their first District 28-A game when they played Bartlett and came away on the short end of a 62 to 25 score. Debbie Bohanan scored 16 points, with Diane Williams and Kelly Weems each scoring 3 points. Shirl Holder got 2 points and Donna Holder accounted for 1 point.

In the Junior Varsity Game, our girls were on the short end of the scoreboard by 36 to 13 against Bartlett. The Liberty Hill Girls were plagued by an inability to reach the basket. The scorers for the Panthers were Pat Sullins with 7 points and Linda Hernandez, Gayle Lenox, and Karla Taylor with 2 points each. A fine defensive effort was displayed by Melody Carlisle, Debbie Sessler, Beth Wear and Sherry Hays.

This weekend The Liberty Hill Varsity Girls are playing in the Evant Tournament; next week the girls will play Johnson City and Thrall in Liberty Hill on Monday and Tuesday, respectively. Coach Kathy Burttschell and her girls will appreciate your support.

In the Junior High Girls game this week the eighth grade team lost to Johnson City by 42 to 10, and the seventh grade managed to catch up late in the third quarter and the fourth quarter was neck and neck all the way. Leading the girls to victory was Sue Cantrell with 26 points, with Lace Knox and Lisa Lovelady each scoring 5 points to round out the score. In the eighth grade game, Denise Stultz and Theresa Cantrell each scored 4 points and Cynthia Loehr accounted for 2 points. The next games for The Junior High will be on January 3, when all four teams will travel to Lometa.

The Liberty Hill Boys' Varsity Basketball Team beat the Johnson City Eagles last Tuesday evening by 59 to 55. In what was clearly a very sloppily played game, the Panthers somehow had enough bright spots at the right time to pull ahead late in the third quarter as the quarter ended with the Panthers on top of 44 to 43. With only three minutes left in the game the Panthers were still leading by only one point when Jimmy Patton came off the bench to hit the basket. He then picked off a loose ball and passed it to Donnie Johnson for another quick two-pointer. The Eagles then fouled Robert Stephens who added two more points from the foul line to put the game out of reach, although The Eagles did narrow the gap.

Robert Stephens led all scorers with his 24 points. Donnie Johnson added 14 points, Roy Montemayor got 11 points, with Mark Walker and Eric Weems each scored 4 points and Jimmy Patton bagged 2 points.

Both boys' and girls' varsity teams will compete in the Evant Tournament, with The Panthers playing Lometa in the first round.

Coach Bill Bowie's Junior Varsity defeated Johnson City counterparts last Tuesday eveing by a very close 32 to 28 score, with Ray Satterwhite and Walter Rutherford leading in the scoring. Ray scored 14 points and pulled down 15 rebounds, while Walter scored 10 points and pulled down 3 rebounds.

Liberty Hill led from the opening tip-off and never relenquished the lead which was as high as 8 points at one time. A full-court man-to-man press by The Eagles narrowed the lead to two points in the last quarter, but good effort by the Panther offense broke the press to end the Johnson City threat.

The Panthers did an excellent job on defense using a full-court man-to-man press with ten players rotating in assignments every few minutes; this rotating press has improved with every game. It puts a lot of pressure on the opposing players.

The outstanding defensive players were Damon Reed, Ray Satterwhite, Tony Stevens, Todd Linebaugh and Rex Burnett.

Monday evening the Junior Varsity boys played Johnson City here at home. The first District 28-A game for the JV will be played on the home hardwood on Tuesday evening, January 4, when the Granger Lions come visiting. Coach Bowie's players, as is the case with all of our athletes, will deeply appreciate your presence and your support!

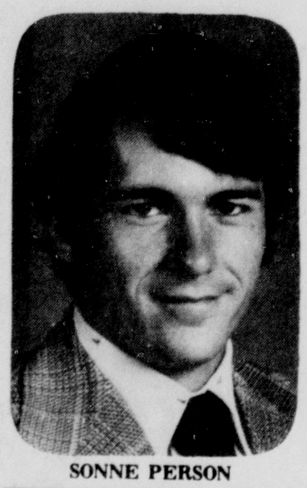

Coach Joe Gregg and his seventh grade Panthers were still undefeated when they won last Monday evening, December 13. They completely dominated the Johnson City Eagles, winning 22 to 14. Johnson City was unable to score until the fourth quarter. Once again Harvey Holbrook was the high point man with 15 points, while Luke Cullum sacked 3 points. Mitch Walker grabbed 2 points and Doug Lindsey got 2 points. Other stand outs in the game included Mark Sullins, Jerry Floyd, Edward Pina, John Allman, Kelly Burns, Brian Kirk and Marty Hicks.

The eighth grade boys broke from a recent slump when they won a close victory by 36 to 33. There was obvious improvement in outside shooting, rebounding and defensive play. Aurillio Montez was the high point man with 18 points, while Curtis Riley made 8, Maurice Stephens got 6 and Edward Montez got 2. Others who contributed to the victory were George Glass, Mitchell Sullins, Donald Mouser and Gene Holbrook.

The Junior High Teams will resume competition on January 3, when they travel to Lometa. On January 6-8, they will be playing in The Hutto Tournament. Be sure to be on the sidelines whenever possible to cheer our Panthers on to victory.

New school bond proposal coming up for Leander

The Leander School board agreed Monday night on the need for a bond election in January. The election would be to approve money for a new elementary school roof, sewage treatment plant at the Leander campus and several portable buildings to relieve overcrowing in the schools next year.

STARTING action on these needs, the board authorized Superintendent Joe Ward to prepare and present a proposal for the bond issue.

Cost estimates were $55,000 for the Leander Elementary School roof and $150,000 for the Leander campus sewage treatment plant. The number of portable buildings that will be needed is not yet known.

School board member Jim Moore expressed special concern for the potentially dangerous septic situation.

TALKING about expected overcrowding at Faubian elementary school next year, Moore said the situation would be "something terrible." Trustees discussed permanent additions but decided to plan on portable buildings to ease the crowding next year.

Superintendent Ward was also authorized to prepare a long range plan for the school district's future needs.

In other business, the board voted to spend about $2,500 to add a 150x10 foot drain field to the septic tank connected to the field house to alleviate the excessive burden on the showers.

An emergency situation was declared so that repairs could be made faster. In an emergency situation, the school district is not required to accept bids for the work before deciding on who will make the repairs.

Business manager John Thurman said the district already has money for the repairs allocated. The $2,500 will go for materials and the labor will be supplied by the district.

Presently the drain field has to be pumped out every day, which would cost about $8,350 to continue between now and June.

Two new bus routes were approved, at state expense, to alleviate standees in Cedar Park, Leander Heights and on the Georgetown road. A new state law requires everyone in a school bus to be seated.

In action regarding the overcrowding, four new teachers were hired.

THE ANNUAL AUDIT produced good and bad news. While expenses for the school district year closed out extremely close to the budget, trustees learned that as of August 31, only 82.08 percent of 1975 taxes had been collected.

This compares to an average of 93-98 percent in other districts, said school district auditor Marvin Kaufman.

Business manager John Thurman said that the 75-76 budget had been based on a 90 percent collection basis because "the district averaged a 91 percent collection rate for the past five years. A taxpayer's suit and district taxpayer discontent over several issues may be responsible for at least part of the low collection rate, said Thurman.

Grain handlers warned about increasing thefts

GRAIN HANDLERS from farmers to elevator operators are being warned by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White to double precautionary steps to halt the increase in thefts of whole truckloads of sorghum.

"By using various schemes, drivers, often using stolen trucks, are stealing more grain than in the past. We have had more reports on thefts recently because of the great amount of grain stored on the ground. Elevators are full, and farmers are having to wait to send their harvest to storage," White explained. "The drivers are bolder now; they just make off with the entire truckload."

SEVERAL RUSES are successful because of the shortage of transportation. During the height of harvest season, trucks are difficult to contract, and farmers will take almost anyone who is available, just to get his grain out of the weather and into storage, White said.

One driver loaded his truck with 80,400 pounds of milo, consigned for Galveston. The grain was never delivered.

THE FARMER did get the trailer license number, but the records showed that the license was stolen. Since the truck was loaded at night, no description of the tractor could be made.

At one elevator a driver had a sign taped on the side of his truck and got in line with others with similar authorized signs. He got the truck bed filled and pulled out. "Where the grain was sold is anybody's guess," White said.

"WE HAVE SEVERAL SUGGESTIONS for farmers and elevator operators, but the most important is to try to be as wary as the thief. If operators don't know the driver, he should get the diver's license number, the make of the truck and trailer, the license number of the truck and trailer, and some type of description on the vehicle.

"Once the grain has been picked up, don't wait two or three days to call the destination. Allow just sufficient time for him to get there and call to make certain that delivery was made. If the truck hasn't reached the destination, call the nearest law enforcement office," White advised.

Gayle Blake, Charles Bielss united in St. Phillip's vows

MRS. CHARLES GENE BIELSS
(Miss Denise Gayle Blake)

Miss Denise Gayle Blake and Charles Gene Bielss were united in a double ring ceremony at St. Philip's Catholic Church in El Campo on Saturday, December 4, at 3 p.m. with the Rev. Leslie A. Vance officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blake of El Campo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bielss of Holland.

Banking the main altar was greenery of variegated pittisporum and wax-leaf ligustrum. The same greenery decorated the sanctuary windows. Two baskets of bronze mums and candelabra holding lighted votive cups entwined with English ivy flanked the altar.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Jayme Dornak of Dickinson, organist, and Cecil Davis, soloist. Selections included: "True Love Comes From God," "He," "The Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer." Prelude music included "Wedding March" from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn; "Bridal Chorus" from "Logengrin" by Wagner; "Someday, Somewhere," "Sunrise, Sunset," "A Time For Us," love theme from Romeo and Juliet; "Somewhere" from "Westside Story," "More," "How Great Thou Art," and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore an original gown of ivory silk organza and Venice lace. A lace-edged stand up collar accented the fitted bodice, which was designed with a sheer yoke highlighted with scattered lace medallions. The long sheer sleeves were gathered to wide cuffs adorned with lace medallions and wrist-hugging satin-covered buttons. The skirt of the empire gown featured a sweeping, scalloped border of satin and organza edged with Venice lace. Lace medallions accented the points of the scallops. A satin bow, fastened at the waistline, accented the back.

The bride wore an ivory fingertip veil completely edged with scalloped Venice lace and attached to a lace-covered cap. Lace medallions were scattered over the veil of bridal illusion.

She carried a round bouquet of yellow roses, tulips, white poppies, yellow forget-me-nots and flocked babies' breath tied with yellow satin picot ribbon and ivory ribbon.

She also observed the tradition "something old, new, borrowed, blue and a sixpence in her shoe."

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Patricia Blake of El Campo. Matron of honor was Mrs. Chester Rummel of Brownwood.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kay Gaus of Austin; Miss Sheila Bielss of Austin, niece of the bridegroom; Mrs. Ronnie Persky of Bartlett; Mrs. Allen Martinets of Austin; and Mrs. Ray Wilson of Wharton.

Miss Kathy Ellison of Rosenberg, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The bridal attendants wore burnt orange and white polyester formal-length dresses fashioned with scooped necklines, long sleeves gathered to bracelet cuffs, and self-fabric belts tied at the natural waistlines.

They carried cascade bouquets of orange chrysanthemums interspersed with stephanotis, forget-me-nots, lilies-of-the-valley and greenery, and tied with orange and yellow satin ribbons.

The mother of the bride chose a formal gown of apricot imported chiffon over taffeta designed with a V-neckline, cummerbund and fitted bracelet length sleeves. Her accessories were bone, and she wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses accented with babies' breath and yellow satin ribbon.

The bridegroom's mother wore a formal-length apricot polyester knit dress styled with short sleeves, a fitted bodice and a V-neckline with a floral print circular chiffon cape. Her accessories were gold, and she wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and babies' breath tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Serving the bridegroom as best-man was his brother, Arthur Bielss of Holland.

Groomsmen were Michael and Richard Blake of El Campo, brothers of the bride; Latius Prikryl of San Antonio; Ronnie Persky of Bartlett; Allen Martinets of Austin, and Dr. David Mikulencak of Houston.

Wayne Bielss of Austin, nephew of the bridegroom, was junior groomsman.

Ushers were Edward Bielss of Austin, brother of the bridegroom; Gordon Swenson of Creedmoor, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Joe Zuehlke of Moody, and Larry Bartek of Temple.

Witnesses were Maxie Ellison of Rosenberg, uncle of the bride; and Mrs. Gordon Swenson of Creedmoor, sister of the bridegroom.

RECEPTION

The reception followed the ceremony in the Parish Hall of the church.

The round registration table, covered with a white cloth and overlaid with net trimmed with yellow ribbon, was centered with a yellow candle. On the table were the bride's book with a white plume pen, and the couple's picture. Assisting guests at the table was Miss Rhonda Sanders of El Campo.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth edged with lace. A yellow lace panel accented the center of the table. Crystal candelabra holding lighted yellow tapers decorated the table.

The bride's three-tiered white confection cake, decorated with yellow roses and topped with a halo of daisies and two playful cherubs, enhanced one end of the table. Assorted finger sandwiches, nuts and mints were served, and yellow fruit punch was ladled from a crystal bowl at the same table.

The bridegroom's table, covered with a beige-skirted cloth, accented with brown velvet ribbon was centered with a small tractor and seed drill backed with lighted votive cups in a fall floral arrangement. The bridegroom's German chocolate cake and silver coffee service adorned the table from which assorted finger sandwiches, nuts and mints were served.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Marvin Sanders, Misses Monica, Rhonda and Gayle Sanders, Mrs. Billy Fucik, Mrs. Carl Bruce Bain and Miss Karen Bain, all of El Campo; Miss Jayme Dornak of Dickinson, Mrs. Edward Bielss of Austin, Mrs. Gordon Swenson and Mrs. Arthur Bielss of Holland.

As the couple departed on their wedding trip, the bride was wearing an orange, navy and ivory dress and jacket ensemble with a printed scarf tied at the neckline. Navy accessories completed her attire.

The newlyweds reside at Route 1, Holland, following a wedding trip along the Texas Gulf Coast.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bielss, parents of the bridegroom, hosted the rehearsal dinner for the Blake-Bielss wedding party in the Thomas A. Edison Room of Wharton County Electric Cooperative in El Campo on December 3 at 8 p.m.

An orange and yellow floral arrangement holding lighted votive cups centered the main table. Lighted votive cups accented with greenery centered the other tables.

The engaged couple exchanged gifts and presented gifts to their attendants.

Fifty-five guests were served a dinner of barbecued beef, sausage, beans, rice salad, cole slaw, pickles, iced tea, coffee, chocolate cake and Italian cream cake.

Stanecek, Temple National Bank, Young, Jim Criswell, Temple, FmHA, Faris, Robert W. Gladney, Wesleyan secretary, of Corsicana and Pat Stroman of Waco. The nursing home is to cost $1.5 million and be modern in every respect. It is scheduled to be open next December. (See editorial, page 2)

in their cars, like at the Dairy Hill."

Well, before long, Tanksley and her troops had enough to pay cash for the new lavatories and plumbing, and some left over. From out of the tiny kitchen they began to hatch plans. First, they decided to get the church roof reshingled. Soon, it was done. "Then, we wanted to build the annex and dining hall," says Tanksley. "Eventually, we sold enough dinners to pay cash for that, and for the furniture." Although the church annex is used for many functions, it is outfitted mainly as a restaurant, with a small kitchen adjacent.

The parsonage was the next big project, and the Dining Hall Committee purchased a small lot for it for about $1100. The AME Church had had an old parsonage, but it was purchased by Georgetown's Urban Renewal Agency and leveled, leaving room for a new parking lot between the church and new parsonage. The parsonage itself was finished in March, 1976, and cost about $17,000.

"We're making enough money to make the payments on the parsonage and to put money aside for the renovation," says Tanksley. "We hope to start the renovation late this spring. I hope I live to see it finished. I think I will, but it takes money."

The ambitious renovation plans include leveling the original wooden floor and covering it with tile, installing central heat, repairing the crumbling ceiling, (a portion of which collapsed last Sunday night) and replacing the stained glass insets which have been lost in the building's graceful arched windows.

The church's most notable feature, a bell-tower which houses a hefty church bell, closed several years ago because it was unsafe, will also be restored and strengthened so that the bell can ring again.

The Dining Hall Ladies don't plan to stop there. Up to their elbows in chicken, flour and moxie, they are thinking ahead to the day when they can afford to extend their annex dining hall, adding a new and modern kitchen. Heaven only knows where they will stop.

Besides Tanksley, the members of the AME Dining Hall Committee are Vice Chairwoman Dora Gadison, Secretary Ethel Harrison, Lorene Henry, Murriel Brown, Lenora Jackson, Joyce Gadison and Lucille Rose.

Occasionally the Committee tries to change its menu. Each week, it buys and sells 12 chickens, one eight-pound roast and a 20-pound turkey. "We've tried to serve a good ham, smothered chicken, and various other things, but it never works," says Tanksley. "It's not that we don't know how to do these things, but we've had people to walk out when there's no fried chicken. Fried chicken; turkey — that's the sale. If that's what they want, that's what they'll get!"

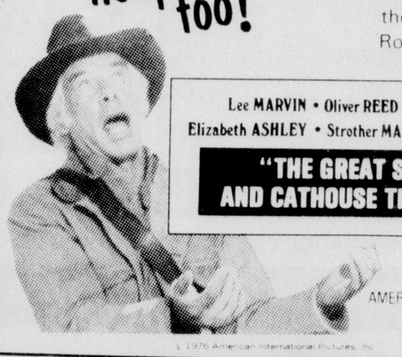

SHE COOKS FOR HER CHURCH — Martha Tanksley, chairwoman of the A.M.E. Church's Dining Hall Committee, points out the base of the bell tower, which she hopes will be restored.

"NOT SINCE 'CAT BALLOU' such a hilariously bawdy movie!"
